GRAND JURORS WILL HEAR 21 CASES SEPT. 23

First Degree Murder Charges Against OSR Inmates Among Accusations.

At least 21 cases of alleged law violations, including two charges of first degree murder, two of embezzlement and six of grand larceny, will face the fall session grand jurors when they convene Sept. 23.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz announced today the date of the jury session and said the investigations would probably last for three days.

Most serious of the charges are those of first degree murder against Howard Nichols, 20, and Lewis Murton, 19, inmates of the Ohio State reformatory accused of stabbing to death their fellow prisoner, Janvere Bruck, 18, in a supper line-up at OSR last July 18.

Embezzlement charges against Arthur Fraley and Gerald T. Fry will be studied. Fraley is accused of keeping $200 he collected from coal customers of the Hecht Coal company of which he was an employe. Fry is charged with keeping $145 he obtained through sale of a sewing machine for Mrs. Josephine Russell.

Couple Accused.

Investigation will be made of grand larceny accusations against Robert Kissell and his wife, Betty June, William Cranston Butler, Lawrence Fox, Ralph W. Cline and Robert Ray.

Mr. and Mrs. Kissell are accused of stealing $300 from Jean Storz who left her purse on the rear seat of a taxi June 13; Butler of taking a jeep wheel, tire and tube from the Parsel Air Supply Depot at Shelby last March 15; Fox and Cline of collaborating in the theft of $302 from the timekeeper's office of the Weinstein Construction company which is building the new Sears Roebuck and Woolworth stores; and Ray of stealing 11 tires valued at $140 from the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company on Aug. 23 and 31.

Other Cases.

Other cases include:

Nan Ella King, cutting with intent to wound Fannie Huston June 24; Edward McFarland, theft of William Light's auto July 20 after McFarland escaped from OSR, Otis Green and Mose Lee Miller, robbery of a watch from Alvin C. Murray Aug. 11; Vernon Clester Webb and William Donald Richardson, theft of Wayne Hursh's auto Aug. 12; James R. Beatty, jr., abandoning his pregnant wife May 17.

Henry Litteral, receiving property stolen from the Mansfield Hardware company March 31; John Laughlin, statutory rape of a 13-year-old girl Aug. 27; Ellsworth Moyer, statutory rape of a 13-year-old girl Aug. 17; and Morgan Lee Stevens, attempted breaking and entering the Shaw Jewelry company Aug. 30.

SOVIETS WIN

Socialist Unity Party Leads in Russian Zone Elections.

BERLIN —(INS)— The Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity party today rolled up a majority during municipal elections in two provinces of the Russian Occupation zone.

It showed a total of 1,986,516 votes, half a million in excess of the combined total of the Conservative Liberal Democrats and the Christian Democratic Union.

The Conservatives ran second with 870,935. The CDU trailed with 595,991.

Fire Destroys 18-Stall Barn

MT. GILEAD — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed an 18-stall barn at the Morrow county fairgrounds early today.

Firemen prevented flames from reaching near-by barns housing horses. The loss was covered by insurance.

The fire came as an unexpected sequel to the sixth annual charity horse show which closed Saturday.

42% Growth of City's Schools By '49 Looms; Units Already Crowded and Building Delay Feared

Mansfield's public school enrollment may increase as much as 42 per cent by 1949, according to an Ohio State university survey.

Yet overcrowding in elementary schools is already forcing half-day sessions at one school.

The city board of education is hopeful that contractors will make bids on the expansion and building programs in the face of higher prices on building materials.

That, in brief, is the picture and problem facing Mansfield educators, school pupils and their parents, today.

If the $2,000,000 bond issue for school building, voted by taxpayers last fall, does not cover building needs because of higher prices, construction may be postponed for a year.

Stirred by parental protest against the half-day sessions which started today at Western avenue school, school officials sought to outline the difficulties facing the expansion program in industrially and commercially expanding Mansfield.

Temporary or "emergency" housing of overflowing classes at Western has been ruled out by the board of education because of insufficient money in the general fund.

Quonset huts, which have been O. K.'d by the state board of education for school buildings, and which are now being used in some other crowded municipalities in Ohio, will not be used in the city unless the board of education can obtain money from some other source.

"The bond money cannot be used for such a purpose," Supt. W. L. Miller said when asked if quonset huts could be purchased to help out the Western situation.

"The money for the huts would have to come out of the general fund, which doesn't have it. We spend approximately 83 per

BLASTS HALT RAIL TRAFFIC IN PALESTINE

Extremists Dynamite Tracks Over Widespread Area in Sabotage Campaign.

JERUSALEM —(INS)— All rail traffic in Palestine was halted today by widespread dynamiting of tracks by extremists.

Officials of the Palestine Railway said that traffic would remain at a standstill until all roads were reported clear of mines.

Six bomb blasts tore up the Acre-Tarshina line in northern Palestine in several places when extremists carried out early morning raids.

Seven explosions rocked Kalkiliah, near Tulkarm, and cut the line there.

Gunmen Attack Train.

Some 25 gunmen attacked a freight train near Jerusalem after detonating a mine 200 yards in front of the train. Arab supernumary police returned the fire of the attackers and drove them off.

Later an unexploded bomb was found in the water tank of the train's engine.

The extremist action appeared to be a concerted campaign of sabotage designed to paralyze rail transportation in the Holy Land coincident with the opening of roundtable talks on the Palestine question in London.

Underground flying squads struck shortly after midnight, blasting the rail lines and rolling stock at numerous points.

They dynamited trackage and cars at Battia, five miles from Jerusalem, at Rehovoth, south of Tel Aviv, and also at Kalkiliah, near Lydda.

The Battia railroad station reportedly was blown up.

Violent explosions were reported heard in the vicinity of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv.

BAR SUPPLIES TO YUGOSLAVIA

Longshoremen Balk Because of Airmen's Deaths.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association (AFL), said today longshoremen would not load any relief supplies for Yugoslavia "until proper action is taken against those who were responsible for shooting down our planes" in that country.

Ryan asserted that even if the strike of AFL seamen were to end today, there still would be no loading of any vessel with cargoes bound for Yugoslavia.

F. H. LaGuardia, general director of UNRRA, said yesterday that Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union (CIO), had agreed to order his men to sail UNRRA relief ships to any country provided they were fully loaded.

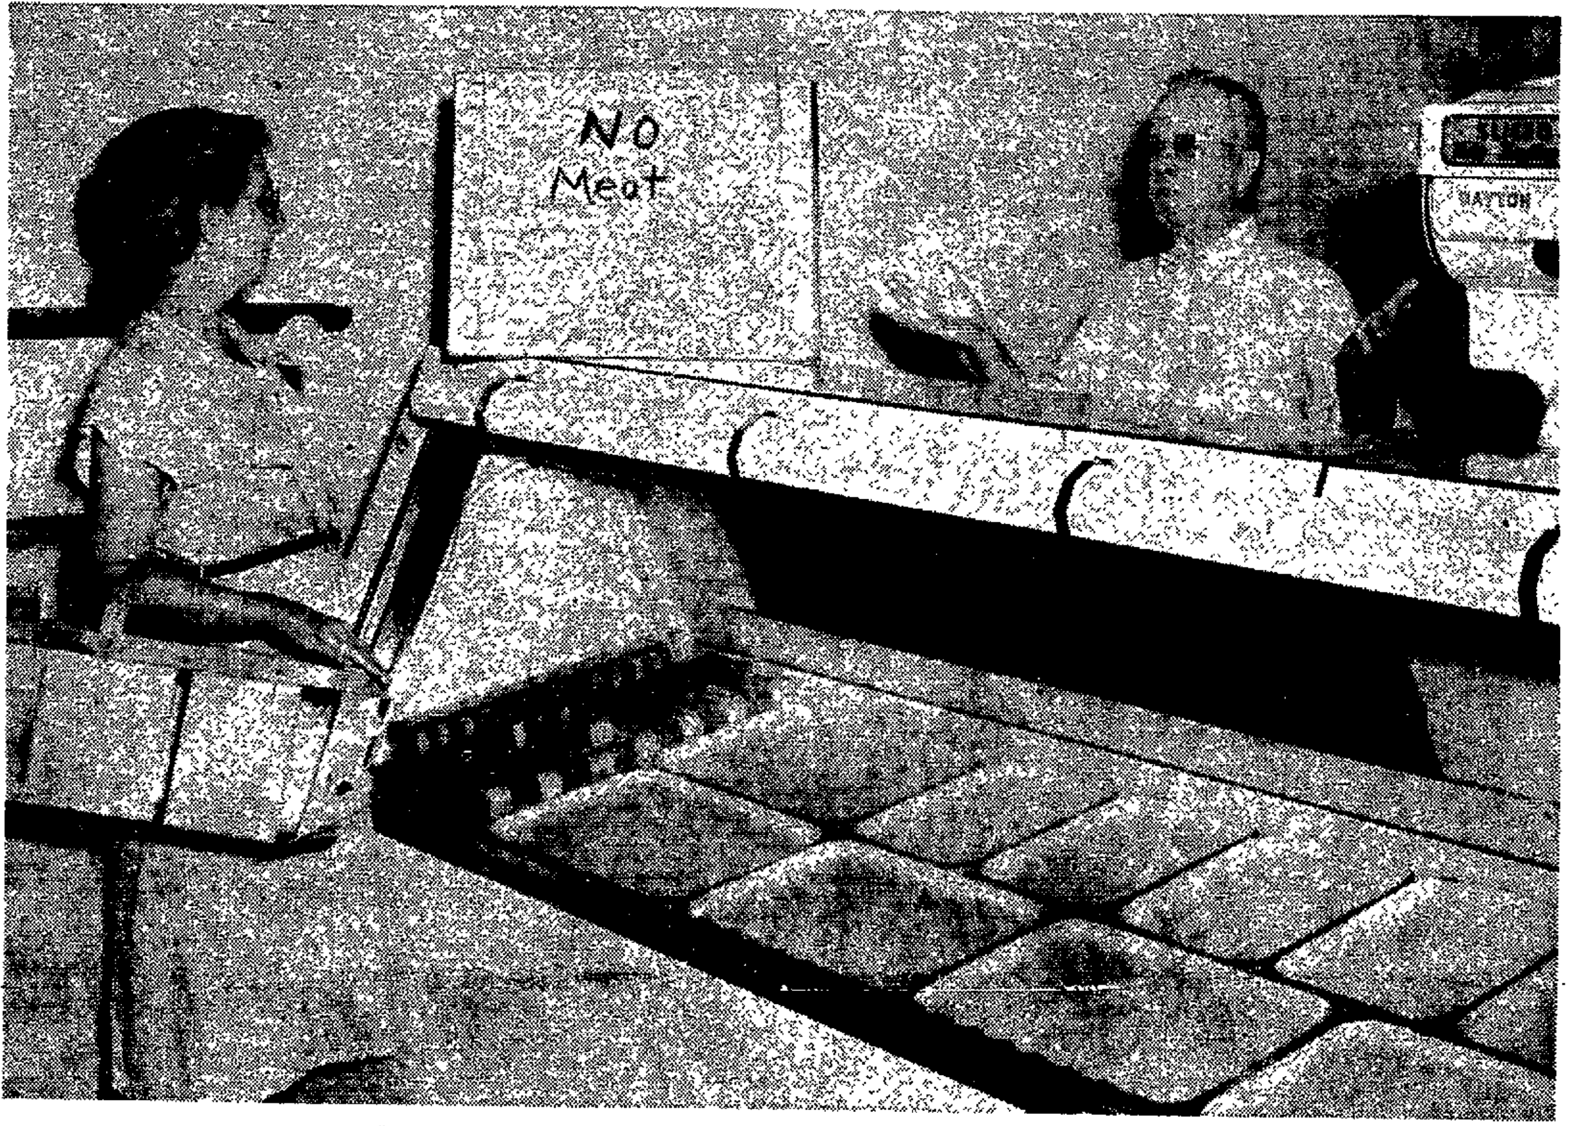
LaGuardia said there were 37 UNRRA ships now in the nation's ports, some of them partly loaded.

ILA members work the docks on the east and Gulf coasts

Asked as he visited the ILA office what action he believed should be taken by this country, Ryan said that was "up to the state department."

STUDY WAR SECRETS

DAYTON —(UP)— Five hundred American engineers, summoned by the Air Materiel Command, today began the study of German and Japanese top war secrets at Wright Field The five-day session was opened by Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commanding general of the Materiel Command.



"SORRY, NO MEAT" was the answer Mrs. William Brennan, 81 Waring avenue, received this morning when she approached A. H. Sayles at the Park meat market, 20 North Diamond street. This picture, which presents a bleak outlook for Mansfield meat eaters, was duplicated in five local markets which failed to open today and in five others which were forced to close by noon because of exhausted meat supplies.

BIG FIVE ASK U. N. TO WAIT

Ministers Request Month's Delay of Assembly Date.

PARIS —(INS)— The United Nations were asked by the Big Five council of foreign ministers today to postpone for one month the scheduled opening of assembly sessions in New York Sept. 23.

The postponement until Oct. 23 which was asked by Russia, France and China, and also Belgium which is not one of the Big Five, presented the prospect that peace treaties now being drafted with five former Axis satellites will be signed in New York.

At a session which lasted more than four hours, the foreign ministers also agreed to hold a conference of the Big Four in New York concurrent with the U. N. assembly session to work out the final drafting of treaties.

Observers foresaw the posibility also that vital discussions on a treaty with Germany would be undertaken at the same time.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was on hand for the council meeting which began at 9 p. m. last night and was not concluded until after 1 a. m. Byrnes did not vote for a postponement but he said the United States would not object if other governments insisted.

Under a revised schedule it appeared that the peace conference in Paris will continue until mid-October, the U. N. assembly will meet Oct 23 and the council of foreign ministers will convene immediately after the Paris parley, continuing their deliberations along with the U. N. sessions if necessary.

Ohio Renews Ban On Truck Weights

COLUMBUS —(INS)— A return to pre-war policy regarding use of Ohio roads by over-loaded, over-sized vehicles was announced today by State Highway Director Perry T. Ford.

Ford disclosed a new set of regulations covering issuance of permits for over-loaded, over-width trucks and vans. During the war permission for heavy, slow-moving loads was granted immediately upon request as an aid in the wartime transportation crisis.

Truman Keeps 'Hands Off' In Ship Strike

WASHINGTON— (AP) —Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said today President Truman is taking no direct hand in the efforts to end the crippling shipping strike

Asked by reporters whether there was any news on the strike at the White House, Ross replied. "not this morning"

Harry Lundeberg, leader of the 90,000 striking AFL seamen whose picket lines are being respected by another 400,000 AFL and CIO seamen, stevedores, teamsters and other maritime workers, reiterated late last night that his men would not return to work until wage cuts ordered by the war stabilization board are scrapped.

The war stabilization board is scheduled to meet tomorrow in Washington to reconsider its Aug 23 ruling limiting AFL seamen to wage increases of $17.50 monthly —the amount awarded to CIO seamen. The AFL unions had negotiated increases with shipowners of $22.50 on the west coast and $27.50 on the east coast.

Between 1,500 and 1,600 deep water ships were paralyzed by the strike as it went into its fifth day and 400 tugboats in New York harbor were tied up at their piers.

The cessation of tugboat activity was an added blow to industries and consumers in New York, already crippled by a strike of truck drivers.

Plane To Bring Airmen's Bodies

ROME—(INS)—A United States army public relations officer said today that the bodies of five American airmen killed when their transport plane was shot down in Yugoslavia will be flown from Rome to the United States Tuesday.

He said the probable landing point of the plane would be Westover Field, near Springfield, Mass.

U. S. JAILS 5 TRIESTE SLAVS

Army Nabs Tito's Men After Anti-Allied Violence.

TRIESTE —(UP)— Five Yugoslav soldiers were arrested by the American 88th Division today shortly after a six-pound dynamite bomb exploded in Trieste where 22 persons, including seven Americans, were injured yesterday by a hand grenade.

The Yugoslav soldiers had five hand grenades in their possession, officials said, when they were arrested after the second explosion marked a renewal of anti-Allied violence in Triest.

The Yugoslavs were nabbed about three quarters of a mile from a house occupied by Italians which was the target of the dynamite bomb.

The Allied command charged yesterday in a formal statement that the Yugoslavs were harassing the occupation forces and violating their agreement to guarantee freedom of movement along an authorized route.

An announcement by the 88th Division said that the bomb which exploded today consisted of "six pounds of dynamite and a five minute fuse.

Youthful Indian Takes Liking to America; Plans to Dismiss Most of His 32 Servants

SURAJ BAHADUR
. . . Thanks Mansfielder.

By LARRY MURPHY

Twenty - two - year old Suraj Shumshere Jung Bahadur, whose father represents 30,000,000 non-Moslem voters in India's Council of State, visited Mansfield yesterday to thank Dan Haber of 251 Cline avenue for helping him obtain an American education.

A graduate of the University of Punjab at Lahore, India, Suraj Bahadur hopes to educate himself further to prepare himself to help unify and free India.

His dream of an American education was realized last year when he met Haber on a hunting trip as the guest of the Rajah of Chamba who had been his classmate at Lahore

Haber was stationed with the army in Punjab at the time. When he learned that the intelligent Hindu lad who spoke English so well, desired an American education, Haber helped him win admittance to Ohio Northern university at Ada.

The slight dark, moustached Hindu flew from India by way of London to New York and traveled by train to Mansfield.

"I want to study business administration, to learn modern methods, and then apply them to my own country," he said.

"This is my first trip to the United States and I find it very hospitable and nice here."

Already he has acquired a liking for American customs, and he says one of the first things he plans to do upon his return home is to dismiss the majority of the 32 servants about his place so he may be more independent in his home life.

As he left the Habers to catch a bus for Ada, he protested when

Tip Foils Kidnaper; Baby Safe

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. —(UP)— Three-year-old Madeline Tobias was found unharmed in a farmhouse today, and the maid who took her from her Kansas City, Mo., home was arrested for kidnaping in another home where she had taken a job as a domestic.

Chief of Detectives F. L. Vance said he arrested the maid, Mildred King, in a Terre Haute private residence. She was questioned by detectives and held on a kidnaping charge. The child and the maid disappeared from the Tobias home five days ago.

"The little girl was in good health," Vance said. "She wasn't harmed a bit."

Vance said Miss King admitted taking the child "because I loved it and wanted it for my own."

MAID LEADS POLICE TO STOLEN CHILD.

When the maid was arrested by detectives she disclosed that the child was in another home outside the city.

She went with the detectives to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Omer Funkhouser, near Terre Haute, where she said she left the baby during the week-end. She had told the couple the girl was her own child and that she would let them adopt her.

Vance said the little girl was playing about the Funkhouser home when he and Capt. Alec Irving of the Terre Haute detective force found her.

Mrs. Tobias, mother of the kidnaped child, was notified by telephone. Vance said she was nearly hysterical with joy.

Vance said the maid told him she and the little girl arrived in Terre Haute Friday, two days after they disappeared from Kansas City. He said the child slept in three different homes in the three nights before she was discovered.

The maid's real name, Vance said, Miss Mildred Everett, but she uses the name of King. She told detectives she hitchhiked with the baby to Terre Haute late Friday

Cleveland police said the King girl lived there two years ago with a Mr. and Mrs. James Harney.

Kissing Ban Works—Up To a Point

BATAVIA, Ill.—(INS)—The kissless marriage ceremony ordained for Batavia's Emanuel Evangelical Lutheran church today was listed as a success—up to a point.

The Rev. Walter Schlie, pastor of the church, put the ban on kisses at marriage services. He told parishioners it was not appropriate for the bride to kiss the groom until after they had left the church.

Last night the Rev Schlie performed his first wedding ceremony under the new edict.

After the ceremony, the couple walked sedately down the white carpet and out of the church.

But on the church steps, the groom suddenly turned and kissed his bride while 400 spectators looked on smiling.

WRECKS IN FOG

Four Die in Crash of Cargo Plane Near Nome, Alaska.

NOME, Alaska—(UP)—A blinding fog was blamed today for the death of four persons killed in the crash of a twin-engined cargo plane near here last night.

Officials of the Mt McKinley Air Freight company, said the plane smashed into a hillside as it circled the Nome airfield in a ceiling zero fog

The victims were identified as Airline Vice President Lee Chesterfield, Anchorage; Pilot Marvin L. Pratt, and his wife, of Bellingham, Wash., and Co-Pilot John Campbell, Anchorage.

Renounces Claims Against Italians

PARIS —(AP)— Great Britain went before the Italian Economic commission today to renounce its claims to some $11,000,000,000 in reparations from Italy

It reserved to itself only the right to exercise article 69 of the Italian treaty allowing it to confiscate whatever Italian assets may be found in the United Kingdom and its colonies to satisfy claims for war damage Some British quarters set the value of the Italian assets at no more than $10,000,000.

FIVE REPORT SUPPLY SOLD BY NOON HOUR

Mansfield Dealers Describe Shortage as 'Worst in Four Years.'

The meat shortage hit Mansfield a solid blow today.

Five markets failed to open, five others reported their supplies sold out by noon and only one of 11 dealers contacted saw any prospect of having sufficient meat to operate throughout the week.

All 11 markets were doubtful if packers would be able to ease what they termed "the worst shortage in four years of shortages."

The national picture was no brighter. The government appeared without a plan for preventing the meat shortage facing American consumers. New OPA ceilings on meat are scheduled to go into effect at 12:01 tomorrow The new ceilings will be about 20 per cent higher than the old ceilings which were cancelled on June 20.

'Worst In History.'

Meat industry spokesmen predicted that the present shortage will be "the worst in history." Shipment of animals to stockyards across the country dropped to the lowest point in years.

"Nobody is going to sell anything for less money than it costs them to put it on the market," a spokesman for the meatless Waldman market said today. "We don't have any meat today and no prospects of getting any. The packers won't promise a thing."

Other markets closed today were Bazley, Brunn, Lahm's roadside market and U-Save.

Those reporting supplies sold out by noon were: Boliantz, Boston, Haring, Wappner and Wilging.

The Kinkel meat market, although reporting meat supplies "very low," said it might be able to stay open the remainder of this week, but that it would operate only three days next week

RELEASED, HE WRECKS AUTO

Police Nab Shelby Man Second Time on Driving Charges.

Twenty minutes after he was released on bond following an arrest for speeding, Nicholas J. McGrath, 24, of Shelby, R. D. 1, wrecked his car and was re-booked on charges of unsafe operation and illegal use of license plates.

Judge H. H. Schettler today in municipal court in fining McGrath a total of $30 and costs on the three charges and suspending his license 90 days said:

"You seemed to get everything done in one night. What have you to say for yourself?" "Not much," answered McGrath.

McGrath admitted that he "had been drinking" but took exception to a witnesses' claim that he was driving "80 miles an hour" when his 1937 model car turned over twice on Linden road early Sunday morning. He entered guilty pleas to the three charges.

ALLEN RESIGNS

Quits Memorial Flag Pole Committee.

A. L Allen today resigned from the Citizens Memorial Flag Pole committee "due to pressure of my own job and other affiliations in civic work"

He submitted his resignation to Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, who said he will consult with members of the committee before appointing a successor.

The committee was named by former Mayor William Locke to map plans for the erection of a new flag pole in Central park as a memorial to Richland county veterans.

In a letter to Vaughn, Allen stated. "I am heartily in accord with the purpose of the citizens' committee when the proper time in presenting it to the general public can be determined."

SCHOOL DELAY ENDS

LAKESIDE — (UP) — Public schools open here today after a week's postponement by board action so students could aid in harvesting the bumper peach crop in this area.

Brother's Mistake Scares Him Away From Romance

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I have been going with a girl for several months now, and am sincerely in love with her. I have often told her how I felt about her, and she has done the same with me.

I have asked her if she would accept a diamond from me, and she has said yes, and we plan to be married as soon as she becomes of age.

My family has told me that we are young and don't know what we want, and that she just wants a diamond out of it. They think this because my older brother made a mistake, and now I'm doubtful about it. What can I do to find out if she is sincere in her feelings, as I am?

Bewildered

Well, I should think it might be a good idea if you tried trusting her, don't you think? That's as good a way as I know to find out how she feels about you.

And why should you doubt that she's just as sincere as you are? First thing you know, if you start raising questions about her feelings, you'll find that she's beginning to doubt yours. And then before long everything will be in a fine mess. Just because your brother didn't know how to pick the right one, does not mean that you don't know either? Don't you trust your own judgment any better than that?

You don't say how young you are, but if you can afford a diamond for your girl, you're no child. So don't act like one and let your family tell you who to like and who not to like. If you haven't got any better reasons than you've given me for doubting this girl's sincerity, for heaven's sake, don't start dreaming them up.

Work In Her Own Home.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Do you know of a job that could be done at home? It is quite necessary that I find some means of adding to the income, yet I can't get a regular job because we are expecting our first child about October 1.

My husband was discharged in January, and we have since been living with my folks. Due to one thing after another, he started working only this week, but his pay, including government allotment for training, will be only $160 a month. If I could find some way to earn money, perhaps we could get a place of our own. Living as we are is hurting our marriage, and might even break it up.

Before marriage, I worked as salesclerk, waitress and an inspector in several war plants. I am a high school graduate, 23 years old and know little about typing and bookkeeping. Crocheting is my hobby.

"Hopeful"

It's pretty hard for a woman to find any work to do at home that would bring in more than a very few dollars, I'm afraid. Many women have worked up fairly profitable home businesses such a baking, candy-making, typing bureaus, sewing and mending, and the like, but it takes quite a long time, and usually some capital, to even get started.

Don't you think since your child is coming so soon and will presumably put an end to any kind of outside work for awhile, you'd better try to stick things out with your family until after the child's birth, at least? Then you might see what other plans you could make.

In the meantime, if you really think it worthwhile to try to earn even a little, why not put an advertisement in the newspapers offering to sit with children in the evenings, when their parents want to go out, or take care of them in the afternoons, to free their mothers for other things? You might have an informal little "nursery school" say, three or four mornings or afternoons a week, which local mothers would be glad to make use of. I should think something like this would be your best bet for the time being

Your Figure, Madame

Adding sunburn to a permanent wave is the best way to make hay while the sun shines. Especially for blonds. And more especially for brunets who prefer to be blonds. Of course the golden sunshine is full of vitamins and healthy as all outdoors, and it's natural to think it might do wonders for your hair. But overexposure destroys the cystine content of the hair, regardless of the color, and that's the scientific reason why too much sun can make hay of the loveliest hair It splits the ends, and the hair gets dry, brittle and unmanagable.

Since women seem to think gray hair is a sign of age, not of wisdom, you continue to ask about vitamins for restoring the color. Science points to the fact that the anti-gray hair factor is a member of the B complex family, but, like all things, it works only in some cases. The anti-gray hair vitamin may help restore the color of your hair if your hair is turning gray because of a lack of vitamins. One woman's hair darkened when she took iron and the vitamin B complex. But medicinal iron is something to be taken only if your doctor prescribes it. Another woman who started to eat liver twice a week as a tonic, and improved her diet generally, found to her surprise that her hair was getting darker. There is no doubt that an inadequate diet causes hair to turn gray faster, just as it affects general health

But that old saying that pulling out one gray hair will bring seven to its funeral isn't true. It just seems that way because once we start graying, they come.

The best tonic for hair is elbow grease, applied daily with a good brush Brushing is particularly necessary in summer because of exposure to dust and dirt. In brushing, a good part of the brush should actually touch the scalp. Start the stroke on the scalp, then pull the hair and give an extra tug toward the end to exercise the hair roots. The beauty authorities say the technique is to brush with the curl, start with the side of the brush, sort of roll it around, gathering up hair as the brush moves along the scalp, and then turn the brush up and out, rolling in the direction of the curl. Too frequent washing takes all the "body" out of very fine hair, and a set doesn't hold. Since hair gets dirty more quickly in summer, it can be "dry-cleaned" on alternate weeks. There are special tonics on the market for this purpose. Part the hair in sections, dip a piece of cotton in tonic and rub along the part; make another part and so on all over the entire head Remove excess tonic with a rough towel, then brush and brush, with a clean brush of course. There are tonics for dry hair, oily hair, and just tonics.

But cover up Wear a scarf, a sun bonnet or a hat over your hair and you'll be happier about it, come fall

HOROSCOPE

For Tuesday, September 10.

According to the ruling planets, this should be a happy and pleasant day, even in the performance of every day duties, whether these be in relation to business, the professions or the emotional life. A time for auspicious and lucrative contacts with appreciative friends, employers and those in influence and authority.

Seek these with amiable and gracious approach. Propositions and commercial transactions should flourish. In social, artistic and domestic circles, there may be festivities and joyous functions in celebration of happy events. "Dates" and parties add to popularity.

Those whose birthday it is are assured a happy, prosperous, and constructive year, in which all the interests and aspirations are selected for happy denouements, in professional, cultural and social life, with possible highlights in affectional, domestic and romantic contacts.

Also, business appointments of a pleasant nature may lead to enhanced prestige, popularity and progress, being based on the elements of gracious living and selfless giving. Seek joy and service on such amiable standards.

A child born on this day will be blessed with many talents and creative skills as well as practical abilities heightened by a gracious and magnetic personality.

—By Thornton W. Burgess

A HELPFUL MERRY LITTLE BREEZE

Little Breezes have a way
Of helping others every day.
—Old Mother Nature.

Reddy Fox is nothing if not patient. It isn't always easy to be patient. There are times when trying to be patient is a great strain on one's temper. Reddy was finding it so now. But Reddy knows that the surest and quickest way to lose the opportunity to get one's desire is to lose one's temper. So now he kept his temper, although he had to swallow hard two or three times to do it. This little Rabbit whom he had found in a bramble-tangle far back in the Old Pasture was proving provokingly difficult to catch.

What Reddy doesn't know about Rabbits and their ways, their likes and dislikes, is hardly worth knowing. He knew that in that bramble-tangle there was little if anything for that little Rabbit to eat. He knew that all Rabbits dearly love tender sweet clover. So he tried to tempt Little Wobblenose, the small Rabbit, to come out by offering to take him to the sweetest clover he ever had tasted. Two or three times Little Wobblenose, who never before had seen Reddy Fox and didn't know who he was, started to come out then changed his mind. Reddy wondered why. He forgot that every time he grinned he showed his long sharp teeth.

Finally the little Rabbit had suggested that Reddy should tell him in which direction to go to find that sweet clover. Then he could go by himself when he happened to feel hungry, and so not bother Reddy. Of course Reddy had to agree. It was most provoking, but he managed to be pleasant about it. He told the little Rabbit which way to go, hoped he would have no trouble in finding the clover and would enjoy it, and warned him to be careful lest a hungry enemy should find him with no one to protect him. Then he said good by and went off.

"He's very kind, but I do wish he didn't have such big teeth," thought Little Wobblenose as he watched Reddy out of sight.

Now as you may have already guessed there was no patch of sweet clover near that bramble-tangle. To find any in the direction Reddy had given him the little Rabbit would have to go far from the safety of the bramble-tangle. When he was out of sight of Little Wobblenose the sharp face of Reddy broke into a sly grin. Yes, sir, it did so. He had quite recovered from his disappointment and impatience.

He was trotting along a little path through the bushes. Presently he came to a small opening. Behind some bushes on one side he curled up on a comfortable spot from which he could peep through the bushes and watch that open place and the little path leading into it.

"That silly little Rabbit will stay in the path until he gets to this open place. Then he will wander about this way and that looking for the clover he'll never find. Even if he should discover me here, which I am sure he won't, he will be too far from that bramble-tangle to get back there before I can catch him. He wouldn't go with me, but now he will come to me, and that suits me just as well. It is just a matter of waiting. He won't come right away. He'll wait until he feels sure that I am nowhere about. If I know a Rabbit's appetite that won't be long. I wonder why the scamp wouldn't come with me. He doesn't know who I am. I'm sure of that," thought Reddy and closed one eye. Then he opened that eye and closed the other and wondered if he would have time for a quick nap.

Little Wobblenose was really hungry. He tried not to think about that sweet clover, but thought about it all the more. Then he began to wonder about the pleasant, handsome stranger.

"It was nice of him to offer to take me to that clover, but I wonder why he was so anxious to have me go with him. And I wonder who he is," thought he.

At last he ventured out into the path Reddy had taken. Bushes lined both sides, so he kept to the path as Reddy had been sure he would. He would take a couple of hops then stop to look and listen. So at last he came to the little open place. This must be where that clover was but he didn't like going out into the open, though he couldn't have said why. So for some time he sat right there in the little path trying to make up his mind to venture out. A Merry Little Breeze found him there.

"I've brought you something to help you make up your mind," whispered the Merry little Breeze and danced away.

The next story: "What the Merry Little Breeze Brought."

Ag-Department Cuts 1947 Potato Quota

Winchell On Broadway

WE WONDERED why confrere unyon hadn't done a piece on e recent magazine article by a rmer editor (griping about New ork not being what it was, etc.) . "Oh," he shrugged, "it's like ive-Us-Your-Kind-Applause' or e waving the flag to do a dense of New York."

Runyon thought he might write answer to all those who anered it . . . Then he changed s mind . . . "New York," he inned, "doesn't care what anybody ys about it."

An American newspaperman and Russian scribe got chummy at e Peace Conference. "I can't derstand your Stalin," said the nk. "It took a world war to t us American reporters into ssia."

"What are you complaining out?" chuckled the Russian. "It ok a World War to get us Rusn newspapermen out!"

Another newsman, recently ack from the Balkans, explaind the Tito regime's arrogance ith this yarn . . . He asked a 'ugoslav leader why his tiny ation insisted on alienating a owerful friend such as the U. . . . . The Yugoaf sneered: Tiny nation? We and the Russians number more than 200 illions!"

* * *

That one recalls this Damon unyarn: Kearns, the one-time anager of Jack Dempsey, counled him: "When you've got a tup—all you do is hit him on e chin and let him fall."

To which Dempsey said: "But ppose he don't fall?"

"Then," said Kearns, "he's no t-up."

Love Letter: "Dear Walter: hat bit of ham-omelette you and unyon did over 'billing' was ell. May I add my own poetry it? 'Both are Tops—the feud's clown. May their curtain—ne'er me down!' H. G. Smith."

Boston blue-pencilers added another slice of stupidity to their nonsensorship record. Although "Life with Father" has been running there for more than a year, the Boston censors finally decided to delete a line from the play . . . It recalls the time the same blue-pencilers issued the following instructions for a film: "Eliminate scene showing man kicking girl" . . . And then the censor's report added: "This elimination required only on Sunday showing."

The Justice Dep't members (who are planning to ashcan the sedition case) are as spineless as spaghetti. The defendants aped Nazi tactics and are still echoing Nazi propaganda . . . It provides a galling contrast: Thousands of American soliders lost their lives fighting Nazism. Others lost their eyes, hands and limbs. But some defeatists in our Justice Dep't refuse to take Hitler's stooges into court for fear of losing a case! . . . And remember that any American soldier who refused to fight when it seemed like the Nazis would be victorious —could have been shot.

Via NBC the other morning the Tex McCrarys (Jinx Falkenberg) on their Mr. and Mrs. program mentioned this observer's Sabbath night broadcast . . . Said Mr. McCrary: "Lots of grimly familiar names and faces and places in the headlines this morning, and also proving lots of people in Wall Street believe what Watler Winchell says. On Sunday night when he returned to the air he really turned on the gloom. He predicted the grim possibility of war before the end of 1946."

What we said was that De Gaulle, in Paris (in an off-the-record talk to others), had stated he retired because he couldn't avert another war, which he predicted would came before the end of 1946.

egler Fair Enough

NEW YORK—Now and again I ave pointed out the hypocricy of l parties, including the Repub-an, in lauding unionism as a ly institution and condemning e poll tax, inasmuch as all ions require their members to up-to-date in their dues and l assessments, including even litical taxes, to remain eligible r employment.

In other words, they can't work r a living unless they pay poll xes and any other taxes that ay be imposed by private and tterly irresponsible organizaons, many of which are flaantly corrupt. Politicians of all rties endorse that condition, d it would be dishonest not to serve that most Republicans ve refrained from criticizing is state of affairs. It is fair to lieve that the Republicans ould accept just as readily as e Democrats have accepted a ion poll tax of $1 a head for eir own campaign funds.

A poll tax is not a tax on the ght to vote. It is a head tax, e poll being the hair of your ad. However, in all unions, as ell as in the few southern poll x states, the person who is not en with the board cannot vote union elections. Even worse, can't earn his living.

Some of these union taxes are surd and monstrous, both. In 44 many thousands, perhaps illions, of war workers had to y $1 to the Roosevelt campaign nd. If they refused, they could run off the vital war jobs. en though Paul McNutt was llowing about a ghastly shortge of man power and Harry Hopns and Mrs. Roosevelt threated the American people with a ndition of life practically idencal with that of the Russians.

The said the government should ve the power to tell us what rt of work we were to do and here to go and to fix our pay. Hopkins, a cocky little advenrer who rode the cushions on a pass all his life, got really tough and wrote "It isn't just talk and it won't blow over and it does mean you." This at a time when men and women were given their choice between contributing to the Roosevelt campaign fund, to union funds for dubious European relief, and to "testimonial gifts" for thieving union officials or lying idle. The authority of the national government upheld the unions in this.

I wonder how any politician, Democrat or Republican, can keep a straight face in lathering the union movement with soft soap when they all know the content and meaning of the general run of union constitutions.

* * *

The oath of the International Typographical union, which is really one of the more respectable unions, says that the initiate solemnly swears that his "fidelity to the union shall in no sense be interfered with by any allegiance that I may now or hereafter owe to any other organization, social, political or religious." The oath required in the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers pledges a new member to "bear true allegiance to the I. B. E. W." and never to "sacrifice its interest in any manner." These oaths plainly place these unions above family, home, church and country.

These are typical, although the phrasing varies a little in a batch of union constitutions.

Politicians of both parties, by their general endorsement of unionism as is, violate every principle that they preach and flout much of the American bill of rights. Most of them deplore Red-baiting but support a phase of unionism which practices Red-baiting to an extent that the Dies committee and Ham Fish would deplore as violently un-American

HERFORD, Germany — (AP) — e British army's Marlborough ubs, which slashed through the adition that an unbridged social ub separates officers from the nks, have a good chance to be ntinued despite recent reports at they might be abandoned.

Officially, the future of these ubs where a colonel and a prite can have a friendly chat over glass of beer or wine is "under nsideration."

Responsible army sources deare, however, that they expect e clubs, or at least counterparts them, to go on as before.

The British have four such ubs in Germany — At Berlin, amburg, Bad Oeynhausen and erford. Another, in Brussels, as closed, but that was attribut to the reduction in troops staned there.

The clubs were born of the war, iefly to provide a meeting place r brothers, or fathers and sons, widely differing rank.

With the rush to arms, relaves and friends of equal social atus at home often found themlves at opposite ends of the ale when in uniform.

Regulations which forbade an ficer to entertain a non-officer his mess or club, worked a rdship when old schoolmates or embers of families, of differing nk, chanced to be on duty or leave in the same area.

The Marlborough club, bearing e name of the house from which inston Churchill descended, was e answer. Each club is essenally the same as an officers' ub insofar as services and facilis are concerned, with the exption that no spirits are served.

One fundamental rule govrns the clubs: An officer can enter only with a non-officer, and a non-officer can enter only with an officer.

Scope of the clubs gradually increased so that not only relatives or old friends used them as meeting places, but so did officers and non-officers who had not known one another before. There is no distinction as to sex.

Consequently, an army captain friendly with a sergeant in the A. T. S. (British WAC), and prohibited from inviting her to an officers' club, can spend a pleasant evening with her at one of the Marlborough spots.

In Hamburg, the Marlborough club tried to limit entry only to officers and non-officers of opposite sexes—largely because the club was not large enough to accommodate all who wished to gather there.

This didn't set well with the troops. They said that, in effect, it simply became a club for officers to entertain lower ranks of the feminine personnel. They argued that there were plenty of A. T. S. girls for the officers to choose from, but few women officers for enlisted soldiers to entertain.

Mansfielders Win In Horse Show

Four Mansfield residents won trophies in the second annual horse show which followed last week's fair at Holmes county fairgrounds. They are Mr. and Mrs. Roe Esterline, second in the western pair class; Harry German, fourth in the western spotted group, and C H. Williams, first in the stock horse class and fourth in the western plain classification.

SIX INJURED IN WEEKEND AUTO MISHAPS

Patrolman Accuses Driver of Ignoring Signal at Intersection.

Six persons were injured, three of them seriously enough to be hospitalized, in auto accidents over the weekend.

Mrs. Richard Bachelder of Bellville was in General hospital. She was reported to have suffered bruises about the head and neck Saturday when the car in which she was riding collided with another at the corner of West Fourth street and Penn avenue.

Earl Lee, jr., Bellville, driver of the Bachelder car, was ordered to appear in court Wednesday afternoon to answer charges of violating a traffic signal.

Carl Beard, city patrolman who was driving the other car, said that Lee disregarded the traffic signal at the intersection and crashed into his car.

Baby Is Hurt.

Patricia Fox, 10-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fox, Dayton, was admitted to General hospital yesterday with cuts about the forehead suffered when the car her father was driving struck the rear of another auto driven by Oran C. Wilson of Cleveland, as the latter slowed to turn off the highway.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fox and Patricia were injured when they struck the windshield as the two cars collided. Mrs. Fox was treated for minor cuts at General hospital and released.

Joseph J. Tuscan, 22, of Galion, and Miss Esther Moose, 21, of Cambridge, were injured when the car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a turn on the Beck-Westpoint road, seven and one-half miles south of Galion early Sunday morning and overturned.

Condition 'Good.'

Miss Moose was reported in good condition at Galion City hospital where she was confined with a laceration of the left knee and a possible pelvic fracture. Tuscan, the driver, was released from the hospital after treatment for severe lacerations of the left hand, state highway patrolmen said. Officers said the mishap occurred at 2:30 a. m. Sunday.

John F. Boner, 27, of Bellville, suffered body abrasions at 5:45 a. m. Sunday when he was reported by state patrolmen to have run off the road and overturned on State Route 97, half-way between Bellville and Butler.

Boner told patrolmen he had fallen asleep before the mishap. There were no passengers in the car.

Patrolmen said both the Boner and Tuscan cars were demolished.

ASKS $25,000

Mt. Vernon Man Files Suit For Auto Crash Injuries.

Philip W. Barnett of Mt. Vernon today was named defendant in a $25,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court by Doyel E. Whisler, Mansfield, R. D. 3. He asserted he was permanently injured in a collision of his and Barnett's autos last Nov. 12.

Whisler charged that Barnett failed to yield the right of way at West Sixth and Bowman streets, despite the fact a traffic light was green in his favor.

Attorneys for Barnett are Anderson, Will and O'Donnell.

Find Body Stuffed In Two Milk Cans

SAN FRANCISCO — (UP) — The homicide squad sought today the identity of a man whose dismembered body was found stuffed into two boxes and a milk can hidden in a dark side-entrance of a motion-picture theater.

The gruesome discovery was made by four boys who were attracted into the alley last night by a foul odor.

Ship's On Way After Accident

SAN FRANCISCO —(UP)— An 8,000 ton Liberty ship with 1,100 troops aboard proceeded toward San Francisco today after being temporarily grounded on the Farallon Islands, 25 miles off the Golden Gate.

The SS Bardstown Victory, which was enroute to San Francisco from Yokohama, ran aground on the treacherous rocks at about 3:30 a. m.

COOPERATIVES MEET

COLUMBUS—(UP)—The first postwar national cooperative congress opened its three day session here today. Cooperatives throughout the United States and Canada, comprising nearly two million families, are represented at the convention.

Among the items to be taken up by the congress will be a proposal by its executive board to increase services in educational, publicity and finance in addition to purchasing, merchandising and manufacturing.

Present Free Safety Show At Park Theater Next Saturday

Two Mansfield organizations, in cooperation with the traffic division of the city police department, will sponsor a free safety show, starting at 10 a. m. next Saturday at the Park theatre.

The show is being presented by the Richland county chapter of the American Red Cross, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Traffic division.

In addition to three safety films and a comedy for the kiddies, Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals will give a short talk, and arrangements are being worked out by the sponsoring organizations to have a band play several numbers.

Safety films to be shown are: "Heads Up", "Oars and Paddles" and "The Other Fellow".

Coming soon after the end of the summer water safety program, the free safety show marks the beginning of the fall educational program of Mansfield civic organizations.

Traffic Commissioner Boals will use the show to further organize his school safety patrols and to remind boys and girls to observe safety rules and look before they dash across the street.

Representing the Chamber of Commerce in making arrangements for the show is Joseph Prewitt while the use of theater is being furnished by Ralph Shaffer, manager.

AUTO LOOTING SUSPECT HELD

Kentuckian Seized as Tenth Car Is Ransacked.

Police today were holding a Harlan, Ky., man for investigation in connection with the ransacking of the tenth car in a series of car lootings.

Officers said that the man was found ransacking the glove compartment of a car early today at Second and Walnut streets.

Meanwhile, Calvin Strauch, of Crestline, R. D. 2, told officers that clothing valued at $40 was stolen from his car late Saturday while it was parked near Union depot.

Articles valued at $154 were reported stolen from eight other cars late Friday and early Saturday.

FIRE DAMAGES CLUB

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Damage was estimated at "several thousand dollars" today from a two-alarm fire that raged for 45 minutes in a Columbus Veterans of Foreign Wars clubroom. Firemen said cause of the blaze was undetermined.

ASSIGN PASTORS

United Brethren Announce Assignments for Eight.

Eight United Brethren pastors in the Mansfield area were assigned either to their former charges or transferred to new pastorates, according to an announcement today by church officials at Sandusky.

These include: Rev. C. D. Wright, Willard; Rev. T. W. Bennett, Attica; Rev. Floyd Bryan, Attica county; Rev. C. V. Roop, Galion; Rev. C. J. Ludwig, Leesville; Rev. C. C. Nichols, Shauck; Rev. V. I. Sullivan, Shelby, and Rev. Kenneth Stover, Tiro.

DEATH TAKES MRS. KEFFER

Former Mansfielder Dies in Loudonville.

Mrs. Fannie Pulver Keffer, 56, wife of Lucullus C. Keffer and a former Mansfield resident, died early today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Floyd McCluggage in Loudonville.

Mrs. Keffer was born in the old Pulver home on the Ashland road, Dec. 14, 1889. Besides her husband, she leaves three sons, Tom and Dick of Ashland and Harry of Jackson, Miss; two sisters, Mrs. George Carter and Miss Ruth Pulver, a brother, Clayton T. Pulver, all of Mansfield, and three grandchildren.

The body is at the Denbow-Bear Funeral home in Ashland. Funeral arrangements will be announced.

4 DOGS WIN

Mansfield Cockers Take Two Firsts in Tiffin Show.

Four cocker spaniels representing the Mansfield Lindaire Kennels placed in the outdoor show at the Seneca Kennel club, Tiffin, yesterday afternoon, with 343 dogs competing.

Lindaire Master Flash, red and white male cocker, was reserve winner in the parti-color division while the buff female, Sheridan Blonde Star, won the female division and best of opposite sex in the red and buff division.

Lindaire Domino placed third in the black and white female open class and the young red male, Lindaire Playmaker, made his show debut by placing third in the open class.

150 Attend Grotto Annual Corn Roast

Approximately 150 members of Baku Grotto and their families gathered at South park yesterday for their annual corn roast and covered dish dinner, the first on a list of scheduled fall activities.

A series of autumn dances at Grotto hall will begin Oct. 12, acting secretary Howard Wenning announced. Others to follow will be on Oct. 26, Nov. 8 and 22, and Dec. 14. Music will be provided by the orchestra of Oscar Fensch. Guest nights will be announced later, Wenning said.

The Grotto's annual stag fish fry will be held at the hall Nov. 9. The fall ceremonial will be an event of Nov. 30.

Approximately 40 members of the Grotto are expected to attend the state convention in Cleveland Sept. 26, 27 and 28, Wenning said.

Ashland Girls Reported Missing

Police today were co-operating with Ashland police in an attempt to locate Miss Mary Louise Barker, 17, and Miss Wilma Shields, 15, both of Ashland, who were reported missing from their homes Saturday night.

The Barker girl was described as about 5 feet 10 inches in height; the Shields girl about 5 feet, four inches. Officers here said state highway patrol offices in Massillon had been notified.

ADVERTISING PAYS—

The fact that it pays to advertise was again proved yesterday, following the story and picture on Mansfield's old blockhouse which appeared in the Sunday N-J. Scoutmaster Ray Turner of Boy Scout troop 6 said hundreds of visitors "trooped out" to South park to inspect the blockhouse which is the city's oldest public building.

Granges Fete Residents of County Home

More than 50 residents of the Richland county home ate fried chicken yesterday as guests of eight county granges which met at the county home for an all-day picnic and program.

A. A. Mellick of Adario said nearly 100 grange members attended the affair, which offered the county homes residents one of their few outings.

The dinner, served basket-style to county home residents and cafeteria style to grange members, was followed by programs given by each of the represented granges.

Granges represented were: Ganges, Union, Plymouth, Hazelgrove, Shiloh, Shenandoah, Lexington and Olivesburg.

FIXES DATES

Oct. 15-Nov. 4 Set as Time For Sending GI Packages.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Christmas packages for soldiers overseas may be mailed without request slips between Oct. 15 and Nov 15, a month later than in the war years.

Maj. Gen. Edward F. Witsell, the army's adjutant general, said in announcing the dates today that the numbers overseas are so much smaller and their movements so much less frequent it was decided there would be ample time for packages to arrive before Christmas.

Postal officers urged however that packages for soldiers in more distant places, such as Korea, be mailed in October.

Future Farmers See Experiments

Five boys from the Springfield rural school at Ontario, all members of the Future Farmers of America, accompanied their vocational instructor, Vance Clever, on a trip to the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station at Wooster last week.

Herbert McBride, a senior at the school and president of the FFA chapter, Charles Fox, Glenn Taylor and Olin Orewiler, juniors, and Dwight Rader, a sophomore, were included in the party.

Other Richland county farmers who were among the nearly 500 in attendance were Frank Clever and Lester Lantz of Franklin township, and Cyrus Tucker of near Shelby. They witnessed experiments in fertilization, methods of preparing seed beds, distance between rows in planting, effect of recent cold weather on corn development, and effect of plowing down fertilizer.

HINTS REBIRTH OF U. S. CROP RESTRICTIONS

Government Revises Wartime Policy of All Possible Farm Production.

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The agriculture department, revising its wartime policy of all possible farm production, said today its 1947 potato price support program will be extended only to farmers who plant within acreage restrictions.

Officials said restrictions were needed to avoid repetition of this year's "costly" experience. A flood of surplus potatoes is forcing the government to buy about 67,000,000 bushels to support prices.

Demand No Bigger.

An additional factor, they said, is the fact that demand for potatoes next year is expected to be no larger than this year because cereals, vegetables and fruits will be plentiful.

Next year's potato goal will be 373,000,000 bushels or about 5,000,000 less than this year. It is about 72,000,000 bushels less than this year's production which topped the goal by 67,000,000 bushels.

The estimated production is based on a national acreage goal of 2,631,000 acres, including 283,000 acres of early potatoes.

"Potato acreage goals will be set for individual farms to insure production in accordance with needs," the department said. "Only farmers who plant within their acreage goals will be eligible for price support."

The announcement marked the first time since early in the war that the government has sought to restrict production in any manner. It may pave the way for similar programs on other crops expected to be in surplus soon.

TAPPAN HOLDS DISTRICT MEET

Sales Managers From Over Nation in City For 3 Days.

The switch of industrial and commercial conditions from those of a sellers' market to those of a buyers' mart is anywhere from 18 months to five years in the future, A. B. Ritzenthaler, vice president in charge of sales for the Tappan Stove company, said this morning.

His remarks were made at the first session of a conference of the company's ten district sales managers who are in Mansfield for a three-day study of the firm's selling policies under present economic conditions.

The initial sessions were held at the company's offices this morning. Tomorrow Ritzenthaler and R. J. Hammer, advertising manager, will conduct explanatory sessions on Tappan's home service department.

Wednesday recommendations of the district sales managers on future policies will be heard.

District managers attending the three-day session, the company said, include: W. H. Tappan of Los Angeles, a company vice president and brother of Alan P., company president, and Paul R., chairman of the firm's executive board, H. J. Hughes, New York City, C. A. Pridham, Camden, N. J.; A. L. Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.; C. C. Wilson, Detroit, Mich.; H. L Bohon, Kirkwood, Mo., D. T. Webster, Wash'ngton, D. C.; Z. Donigan, Houston, Texas; R. B. Wheeler, San Francisco, and G. D. Boyle, Cincinnati.

HEAT STAYS

Weatherman Says Rain Won't Dissipate Hot Wave.

This morning's light rain will do little or nothing to dissipate the late summer heat wave which sent the mercury soaring to 90 degrees here yesterday, the weatherman reported today.

Forecasters said the humid and overly-warm conditions would hang on through tomorrow, which will be the first day of autumn according to records of Ohio climate.

The unseasonable temperatures reached an Ohio high of 93 degrees at Columbus and Chesapeake yesterday and followed Saturday's scorching 98 at Columbus and other spots. Cincinnati and East Liverpool reported maximum temperatures of 92 yesterday, while thermometers at Wilmington and Zanesville reached high of 91. The mercury stood at 77 here at noon today.

Rites Wednesday For Mrs. Stanton

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Morrow Stanton, 92, widow of William Stanton, will be held at the Finefrock Funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday. Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will have charge. Mrs. Stanton died Thursday at her home in San Diego, Calif.

A former member of the First Presbyterian church here, Mrs. Stanton had lived in San Diego for 40 years. She leaves only nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday evening.

FAIR OR FOUL

by LAWTON CARVER
International News Service

NEW YORK —(INS)— The odds against Tami Mauriello for his heavyweight championship match with Joe Louis on Sept. 18 probably will be around 10 to one. That sounds like a fair price any way.

Few will give him more than the remotest outside chance of dethroning the so-called Dark Destroyer. We who watched him developed from a 140-pounder into a heavyweight challenger, will remember his bad fights even against the war-time heavyweights. Mauriello, however, has a couple of things in his favor.

We may as well recite them now and get them out of the way—his fine qualities, that is, as a heavyweight fighter. They won't take up much space.

To begin with, if they gave fighters medals for trying to get into shape, he would deserve a chest full. He is to all appearances laying off of macaroni and accompanying odds and ends, getting his rest and cutting no capers at all.

This isn't unique in a prizefighter, but in Mauriello's case is at least a good sign that he will attempt to mean business. He has been known to enter the ring so fat and out of shape that he was lucky to be able to walk 10 rounds, let alone fight them.

Tami is sawed off and chunky and built low to the floor. He moves in a sort of weave with head bobbing and punches flying. He might bother Louis for a while with a crouch.

Mauriello is a fair sort of hitter, who has belted out some fair hands when he was in a fighting mood and not in these merely to fiddle and hope not to fall down before the scheduled finish arrived.

He is easy to knock over, but so far hasn't been kept down and this has led to widespread reports of his gameness which I do not doubt. He has always looked like the kind of guy who fights for the love of it.

He may be able to last two or three rounds. Anything beyond that, regardless of circumstances, will put him in the class with miracle men who do the unbelievable right before your eyes.

City News 11 Needs Players

Coaches Vern Heisel and Al Schwaner are looking for additional gridders for the 1946 City News semi-pro football team. Any player interested has been asked to report at Tappan field any night this week at 6 o'clock.

Manager Fred Rizzo said that uniforms will be issued before the opening game with the Marion VFW, Saturday, September 21, on the Marion high school field.

Cards Increase Lead to Two Games With Twin Win

BROOKS TOP GIANTS, STEAL EIGHT BASES

By LES CONKLIN, INS SPORTS WRITER

NEW YORK—The St. Louis Cardinals are two games in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National league pennant race today thanks to big George Munger, who got out of the army in the nick of time.

Munger's two victories in as many starts represent exactly the margin which the Cards hold over their tenacious rivals.

Big George had to go 11 innings yesterday to beat Pittsburgh, 5 to 4, in the first game of a double-header. The winning run was knocked in by Country Slaughter, greatest clutch hitter in the senior circuit.

In the nightcap the Cards collected 17 base hits and romped to an easy 12 to 2 win behind Alpha Brazle.

The Dodgers, victorious in eight out of 10 starts since returning east, stole everything except the water bucket in the trouncing the New York Giants, 11 to 3, for their fifth straight victory. They pilfered eight bases. Pistol Pete Reiser stole home for the seventh time this season and pilfered three sacks in all.

Hank Wyse knocked in two runs and held Cincinnati to four hits in beating the Reds 4 to 1.

Relief Pitcher Ed Wright of the Boston Braves won his own game against the Phillies, 4 to 3, with a hit in the ninth, but the Phils took the nightcap 4 to 0 behind the five-hit pitching of Tom Hughes.

In the American league the Boston Red Sox, rapidly backing into the pennant, assured themselves of no worse than a tie by losing only one game (to the Athletics 5 to 3) while the New York Yankees were being beaten twice by Washington, 2 to 1 and 9 to 8. In the opener Stan Spence's second homer of the game broke up the contest in the 11th inning. The nightcap was held to eight innings by darkness.

No less than 56,038 fans saw the Chicago White Sox down the Tigers twice at Detroit, 3 to 2 and 6 to 0. Prince Hal Newhouser opener.

Bob Feller gained his 23rd triumph of the season, and a victory after being beaten six times in seven starts, by beating the St. Louis Browns 3 to 2 in the second game of a twin bill. Bob fanned eight, running his strikeout total this season to 301.

The Brownies won the opener 4 to 1, behind Jack Kramer's six-hit pitching.

Jack Kramer, Pauline Betz Win Net Titles

FOREST HILLS, N Y —(UP)— Jack Kramer and Pauline Betz, both of Los Angeles, wore the national amateur tennis crowns today but only after a tournament which fogged America's Davis cup picture.

Kramer, a former coast guard lieutenant, reached the end of a long, hard-luck trail yesterday when he defeated Tom Brown, jr., of San Francisco, 9-7, 6-3, 6-0.

Miss Betz, dethroned last year by Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke, came back for a fourth championship which tied the performances of Helen Jacobs and Alice Marble as she bested Doris Hart of Miami, 11-9, 6-3.

But despite the second seeded Kramer's triumph, the performances of two youngsters—Brown and towering Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood—had upset the proposed machine which Captain Walter Pate had expected to use against Australia in December following this week-end's inter-zone finals with Sweden.

Falkenburg, demonstrating a blistering service, had walloped cupper Bill Talbert of Wilmington, Del., before losing to Kramer. But the big surprise was Brown, 23-year old veteran of armored warfare in southern Germany.

All Brown did was flatten Gardnar Mulloy of Miami, Davis cup doubles hope with Talbert, and knock off defending champion Frankie Parker. Parker had been expected to be one of the United States singles aces both against the Swedes and the Anzacs.

Constance Wins Chippewa Race

Champ, skippered by Fritz Constance of Mohican Sailing club, won the seventh annual Youngquist Trophy race on Chippewa lake yesterday afternoon.

Constance and Bob Spitzer, crewman, sailed their sleek Y-Flyer to a first and a second in two of the races three heats. Harold Dysart's Ace took third in the second heat and Glen Macy skippered Kittiwake to a second place in the third heat.

More Seats For First Tyger Tilt

George Sherman, Mansfield Senior high ticket manager, announced that 1300 additional seats for Friday's opening game with Marion Harding will go on sale today at 1 p. m. at Yunckers, City News, Fox Jewelry, Tawse's Drugs and Brown's Drugs.

Eight hundred seats will be on the track and 500 in bleachers behind the north goal line. The seats will be reserved by sections.

Fremont Pitcher Loses Tough One

Pitcher Jennings of Fremont entered the hardluck 'hall of fame" yesterday at Sadusky as she lost a no-hitter to the Mansfield Provident Loan girls 2 to 0.

Mary Bessimer was safe at first on an error in the fourth frame and stole second and third. Margaret Tipul walked. Gschwind, Fremont catcher, threw into center-field attempting to catch Tipul stealing and both girls scored.

Sammy Snead Grabs Rich Golf Plum

CHICAGO —(UP)— Long-hitting Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., added the $10,000 winner-take-all "worlds golf championship" to his list of triumphs today.

Snead won the richest prize ever offered in a 36-hole medal play event at the Tam O'Shanter Country club yesterday when he put together a pair of 69's for a six under par 138.

Snead's total gave him the prize by two strokes over Byron Nelson, making his final competitive appearance of the year. Nelson had a 69 yesterday to go with his opening round 71 for a 140 total.

National open champion Lloyd Mangrum finished third when he added an even par 72 to his first round 69 for a 141. Last in the select invitation field was Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y. with a 75-67 for a 142.

The triumph boosted Snead to second place among the year's money winners with a total of $24,903. Topping the list is Ben Hogan with $33,000.

Shelby Playoff Starts Today

SHELBY — The Eagles will meet the Shelby Salesbook company at 5 30 p m today on the waterworks diamond in the first of three games to determine the championship of the Shelby Softball league.

The second game of the series will be played Wednesday night.

The Eagles won the second half of the season, while the Salesbook won the first half. Charles Williams, Shelby high school baseball and cage coach, will be on the mound for the Salesbook. Eddie Griffeth, filling station operator, will pitch for the Eagles.

Legions Juniors Win Benefit Game, Grays Top Lucas, 9-1

American Legion juniors and the Mansfield Grays copped decisions in yesterday's double header at Liberty park.

The Legion juniors topped American Legion Post 72 in a benefit game, 5 to 3, while the Grays won their third straight victory over the Lucas Merchants in the night cap, 9 to 1.

All proceeds of the Legion junior-Post 72 game went to Miss Elaine Mash, who suffered a fractured jaw while watching the former nine play earlier in the summer.

Victory was the 15th in 19 games for the Legion juniors aggregation. Joe Miller paced the attack with a single, double and home run, driving in four of the winners' tallies.

Merle Leedy allowed only four hits in the after-piece and struck out 11. Chug Floro, Lucas catcher, homered in the sixth.

Keck, Rosenburg Take Possum Run Golf Titles

Rudy "Red" Keck sliced four strokes off par yesterday afternoon to win the 1946 Possum Run men's golf championship with a 36-hole total of 143.

Mrs. Ann Rosenburg won the women's title with a 42-45—87.

Keck, a darkhorse candidate, was tied with Arnold Adams and Paul Jesson for fourth place at the end of the morning round but pieced together two 34's in the afternoon to take the title. Keck, Adams and Jesson had 75's in the morning.

Grant Hanawalt had rounds of 37-35—72 and 37-38—75 for the second-second place total of 147 while Carl Kushin, early favorite was third with 148. Kushin had a 38-36—74 in the morning and 37-37—74 in the afternoon.

Adams and Jesson ended in a tie for fourth place with 152's.

Robert Dillon and Hanawalt were tied for first at the conclusion of the morning round with even-par 72's and Kushin was third. Dillon slipped off form in the afternoon to finish far back in the pack of 16. He had rounds of 36-36—72 and 43-41—84.

Johnny Carr took sixth with 78-75—153 followed by Ted Etzel, 78-76—154; Sid Mathias, 80-74—154; Rolly Rachel, 78-78—156; John Seifert, 78-78—156; Dillon, 156 and Carl Kurek, 76-81—157.

Jennette Eichen trailed Mrs. Rosenburg in the women's competition with a 88. Carolyn Seifert was third with a 92 and Mickey Ball took fourth with 95.

Mansfield Moose Tops Sandusky

The Mansfield Moose lodge softball team scored 4 runs in the seventh inning yesterday to defeat the Sandusky Moose nine 5 to 2 at Sandusky.

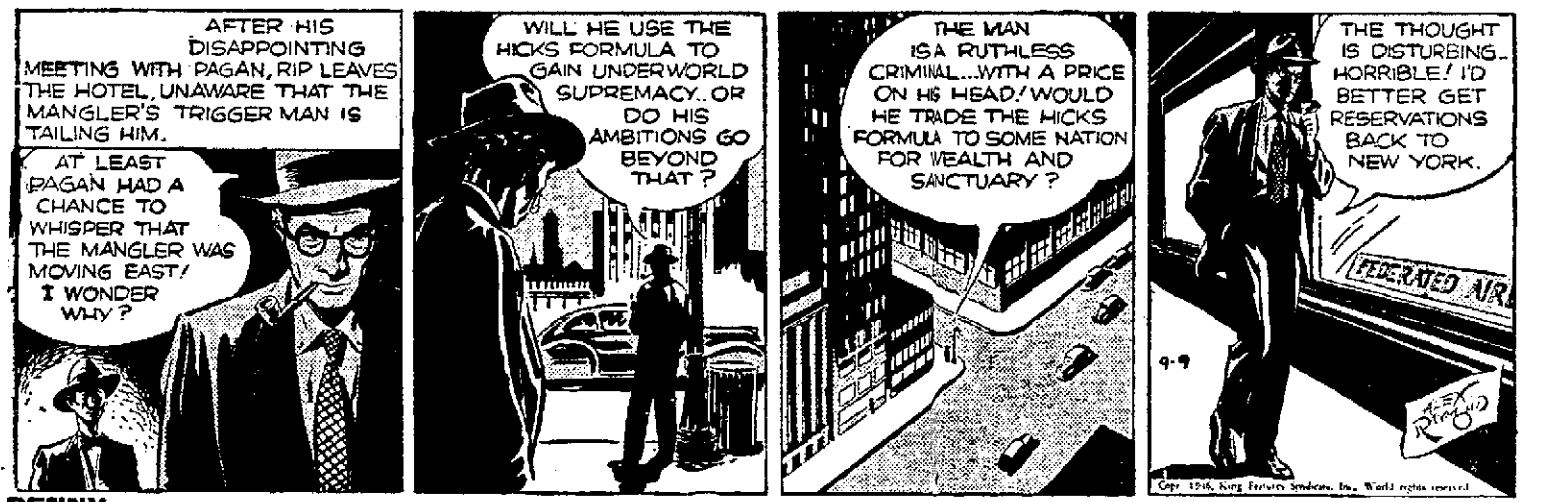
—By Alex Raymond



AFTER HIS DISAPPOINTING MEETING WITH PAGAN, RIP LEAVES THE HOTEL, UNAWARE THAT THE MANGLER'S TRIGGER MAN IS TAILING HIM.
AT LEAST PAGAN HAD A CHANCE TO WHISPER THAT THE MANGLER WAS MOVING EAST! I WONDER WHY?
WILL HE USE THE HICKS FORMULA TO GAIN UNDERWORLD SUPREMACY..OR DO HIS AMBITIONS GO BEYOND THAT?
THE MAN IS A RUTHLESS CRIMINAL...WITH A PRICE ON HIS HEAD! WOULD HE TRADE THE HICKS FORMULA TO SOME NATION FOR WEALTH AND SANCTUARY?

RETREAT STILL ON AS STOCKS HIT NEW LOWS

Mild Selling Becomes Urgent Soon After Opening This Morning.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market resumed the retreat on volume today, many leaders hitting new lows for better than a year with losses of 1 to 5 or more points.

Mild declines predominated at a moderately active opening. Selling then became urgent and the high speed ticker tape, for a lengthy interval, was as much as three minutes behind actual floor transactions. Dealings eventually slackened and scattered recoveries were in evidence around midday.

Brokers inclined to blame further liquidation partly on rising labor disputes, highlighted by the maritime strike, and the belief of numerous customers and professionals that last week's sharpest slump in 16 years signalled a bear market.

Conspicuous on the slide were Eastman Kodak, Schenley, Du Pont, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, J. L Case, American Telephone, Anaconda, American Can, Westinghouse, Celanese, Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio and Southern Railway.

Timely Announcements

FOR EUROPE'S NEEDY: Mansfield received tangible evidence that supplies for the needy of war-ravaged nations of Europe are moving toward coastal points. Even as a ship strike threatened to delay shipment of the supplies to foreign ports, this string of heavily loaded cars was switched in the Mansfield yards of the Erie railroad. Below, C. H. Eise, 620 Gilbert avenue, points to a huge box labeled "Ukraine, Russia."

TWO SHELBY PASTORS GET NEW CHARGES

Rev. Emrick, Rev. Polen, Sent to Other Ohio Pastorates; Start Work Sunday.

SHELBY—Changes in the pastorates of two Shelby churches were announced today with the transfer of Rev. D. F. Emrick, pastor of the United Brethren church and Rev. O. W. Polen, of the Church of God.

Rev. V. I. Sullivan, pastor of the United Brethren church at Van Wert, has replaced Rev. Emrick as pastor of the church here. Rev. Sullivan preached his first sermon here Sunday.

Rev. Emrick, who came here two years ago from Rockford, O., has been transferred to the Toledo Oakdale church. The Emrick family will move to Toledo as soon as the parsonage there is vacated. Rev. Sullivan has served as pastor of the Van Wert church for the past seven years. The Sullivans have two children, a son, 16, and a daughter 11.

Rev. Polen delivered his last sermon Sunday at the Church of God here before being transferred to the Urichsville Church of God. Rev. Olen came to Shelby last year. His successor has not been named.

IMPROVE PLANT

Willard Council Votes to Buy New Water, Light Apparatus.

WILLARD—At a recent meeting of the city council, the board of public affairs was authorized to spend $26,400 for improvements and new equipment at the water and light plant.

This action followed a report by the board that a new water heater, new boiler pumps, repairs to the Sterling boiler and wells were needed and that new coal handling equipment should be purchased. The expenditure is to come from the funds set aside by the board for such purposes.

A mobile x-ray unit will be available to residents of Willard on September 12. High school students will be x-rayed in the afternoon of that day and any others desiring the service are to report at the high school building from 7 to 9 p. m.

BUCYRUS—An accident here Saturday, east of the underpass on East Mansfield street resulted in injuries to two persons and damage of the five vehicles involved.

Miss Dorothy M. Barton sustained a cut knee from flying glass and Donald G. Brown, a fractured rib.

The accident occurred when trucks driven by Kenneth W. Freeman of Toledo and Brown attempted to pass each other when cars, belonging to Miss Barton and James R. Smith of Bucyrus were parked on opposite sides of the street. The third passenger car, driven by James G. Stealey, jr., of Norwalk, Calif., crashed into the trucks when Stealey was unable to stop.

Saturday's mishap adds another to the mounting total of accidents in spite of the city traffic safety campaign, now in its fourth week. The August total more than doubled that of July, police records show, with 23 recorded, the largest since February's total of 21. Total accidents for the first eight months of 1946 reached 144, nearly double the 79 for the same period last year. A total of 222 male and 19 females were involved.

REV. GRABAU NEW PASTOR

Installation Services Held at Loudonville.

LOUDONVILLE—Zion Lutheran church installed its new pastor, Harold T. Grabau, Sunday morning when regular worship was resumed after the annual August vacation. The installation was conducted by Rev. Dr. James W. Schillinger of Columbus, district president of the American Lutheran church, assisted by Rev. Dr. H. C. Leupold of the Lutheran seminary, Capital university.

Rev. Grabau succeeds Rev. Dr. J. H. Kuhlman, pastor of the church for 37 years, whose resignation became effective Sept. 1. Rev. Grabau, his wife and three children moved here from Columbus last week.

Parents Announce Willard Betrothal

WILLARD—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Klopfenstein of Willard announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann, to Lyle Kuhn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kuhn, also of Willard. September 28 is the date chosen for the ceremony which will be performed in the United Brethren church. Kuhn is employed by the Ideal Laundry company, and the couple plan to live here.

Miss Marjorie Moos of Willard and John Weller of Akron, who plan to be married on September 21, were the guests of honor at a dinner party at Marshall's Inn, Port Clinton. They were entertained by directors and employes, together with their husbands and wives, of the Willard United bank and also of the Greenwich and North Fairfield branches. About 40 attended.

NEW STANDPIPE

BUCYRUS—Acting on a recommendation from the state fire inspection bureau, Bucyrus city council at a special meeting last week voted to enter into a contract immediately for construction of a standpipe to augment the city's present water system.

The standpipe has been estimated to cost approximately $90,000 and would have a capacity of 500,000 gallons.

PROMOTED IN JAPAN

CRESTLINE — Cpl. Ray K. Deems, son of Mrs. C. E. Deems, 630 South Thoman, stationed at Osaka, Japan, with the Adjustant General section of the 25th Infantry, U. S. Army, has been promoted to sergeant.

Church Rites Unite Galion Couple Saturday Afternoon

GALION—One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized Sunday at 3:15 p. m. when open church was observed at Peace Lutheran, for the marriage of Miss Annabelle Lavone Chapman and Willard Houston Poland, both of Galion. Rev. Philip E. Auer read the double ring service.

There were more than 100 guests present for a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Platt Chapman of South Boston street.

When the couple return from a short wedding trip they will live in a newly furnished home at 224 Fellows street.

The bride is on the nursing staff at City hospital. She was graduated from St. Luke's hospital school of nursing in Cleveland. She and her husband were members of the 1942 graduating class of Galion high high school. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Poland of Galion and is employed by the Railway Express company here.

Announcement was made here Saturday of the marriage of Miss Ferne Ballance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ballance of North Market street, to Leslie E. Horton, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Horton of Daytona Beach, Fla., former residents of Galion. The ceremony took place in Newport, Ky., August 29. The double ring service was used.

The newlyweds are living with the bride's parents for the present.

Horton was discharged from the Navy after having served for 15 months, mostly on Guam. He is now employed in Galion.

Details of the marriage of Miss Angelina Lupica of Cleveland and Charles Siclair of Galion, have been revealed here. The couple was married Saturday, August 31, in St. Cecelia's church on Kinsman road, Cleveland.

After the wedding, a breakfast was served, and in the evening a reception for 200 guests was held at Novac hall.

A wedding trip to Niagara Falls and other eastern points was planned by the couple before returning to Galion to live at the home of the bridegroom's father, Dominic Siclair of 227 South street.

PARENTS KICK

They Object to Kindergarten Removal to Central.

BUCYRUS—Confronted with 15 parents from Norton school district who presented a formal objection to the elimination of the kindergarten from North school district and establishment instead of a kindergarten at Central school, the Bucyrus school board agreed to meet at a later date with a committee to be chosen from the parent group, school spokesmen said.

The kindergarten was moved to Central school when room at Norton was needed for an elementary grade. Combining of two grades in one room during the last several years had made the room available until increased enrollment made it imperative that the grades be again separated, Supt. D. C. Baer explained.

RESIGNS POST

BUCYRUS—Miss Mary Wiseman, home demonstration agent in Crawford county since 1938 has announced her resignation effective Sept. 14. Miss Wiseman has no immediate plans and will return to Columbus to be with her mother for the present. Her father died several months ago. Applicants for the post will be interviewed by the county home council at the YMCA here Sept. 14.

7 GET PERMITS FOR NEW HOMES

One Commercial Enterprise Receives Approval.

SHELBY — With government restrictions curtailing commercial construction so that more homes can be built, the building trend here during the past month continued to be strong for new dwellings. Only one permit was issued for new commercial enterprizes through Finance Director Chester P. Monn's office, according to the monthly report compiled today.

Seven potential owners received permits during the past month as follows: Thomas Barnhart, Jeffrey avenue, $4,000; Lowell Johnson, West End boulevard, $8,000; Gertrude Simon, West Tucker avenue extension, $4,500; Jack Wilcox, Vernon road, $4,500; Herbert Welker, Clark avenue, $2,500; Warden Bloodhart, Mack avenue, $4,500, and J. H. Jones, Post and Smiley avenue, $3,500.

The only commercial project receiving a permit was for the street car diner to be placed at the northwest corner of Mohican and East Main streets at an approximate remodeling cost of $2,500 by Woodrow Shaw.

Other permits were issued for construction in August as follows: A cement block garage to Russell Alger, 95 S. Gamble street, $400; Lloyd Seitz, jr., Third street, cement block garage, $100; W. G. Belsterli, 183 N. Broadway, Solarium, $300; John McCaskey, 152 W. Main, addition, $1200; and Luther Earl, Wilson avenue, frame addition $2000.

SPONSORS CONCERTS

LOUDONVILLE—A series of four concerts will be presented here during the next several months under the sponsorship of the Loudonville music club. Arrangements were made through the Collins Management bureau of Rochester. Season tickets will go on sale this month.

All the programs will be given in the high school auditorium.

The music club opens its active year Wednesday with a potluck dinner at Doerland farm west of Hayesville.

WORKERS MEET

SHELBY — A Sunday school workers conference dinner will be held in the dining room of the Methodist church tonight at 6:30 p. m. The conference includes teachers, officials of the Sunday school and presidents of organized classes.

United Brethren Committee Makes Church Appointments

Announcement of posts in the United Brethren church was made recently at the sixth annual meeting in Fostoria by the stationing committee headed by the Rev. A. R. Clippinger, D. D., L. L., bishop. The Rev. V. I. Sullivan, replacing the Rev. Dale Emerick, who assumes a post in the Toledo district, was the only change announced.

In the Shelby district, the Rev. C. D. Wright, Willard, is again the leader, while the Rev. Garrison Roebuck, Marion, retains the leadership for the Marion district.

Reappointments follow: Shelby district—T. W. Bennett, Attica; Floyd Bryan, Attica Ct.; C. V. Roop, Galion; C. J. Ludwick, Leesville; C. C. Nichols, Shauck; V. I. Sullivan, Shelby; Kenneth Stover, Tiro, and C. D. Wright, Willard.

For the Marion district the following were reappointed: Harry L. Troutner, Bucyrus; Howard Hammer, Cardington; Frances McCracken, Hepburn; Garrison Roebuck, Marion; W. L. Gunther, North Robinson; C. S. Strawser, Oceola; Herman Keer, Smithville; T. H. Weisenhorn, Sycamore, and C. L. Carnahan, West Mansfield.

The Rev. John Searle, for many years at Shelby, is now stationed at Bowling Green.

Pastor's Wife Named Teacher

LUCAS — Mrs. Helen Stacy, wife of Rev. C. B. A. Stacy, pastor of the Mt. Zion and Mifflin Lutheran churches, today began her duties as auxiliary first grade teacher in Lucas public schools.

Her employment has been necessary because of the unexpected enrollment in the first grade. Plans had been made, through a school census, for 30 pupils and 45 entered school today in the first grade.

HOSPITAL NOTES

GALION — City hospital releases: Thelma Edwards, B. E. Myrup, Alvin Wenninger, Mrs. Ben Cox, all of Galion; Mrs. Harold Baldwin, jr., and baby to Route 3, Galion; and Mrs. Wilbur Chronister and baby to Route 4, Mansfield.

A son was born at City hospital, Friday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Price of Route 2, Galion.

SCHOOLS FACE HOUSING WOES FOR 3 YEARS

Swelling of Attendance By 1949 Linked With Delay in Building Program.

cent of the fund now for salaries, and all maintenance is paid out of the remaining 17 per cent which is insufficient.

"The purchase of a hut for Western avenue school would be out of the question and a useless expenditure if it's possible to build at the school," the superintendent added.

Harold W. Arlin, president of the board of education, said he "didn't know off-hand how we'd raise the money for a hut," and that "no money was available" in the general fund for such an expenditure.

On the basis of an 83 per cent expenditure for salaries, $678,774 will be spent for public school salaries of the total general fund budget of $817,800 for this year. This leaves $139,026 for maintenance of school plants, grounds, motor vehicles and replacement of equipment.

Harry Moore of the industrial commission, state board of education in Columbus, said today he "hadn't been notified" of any other city in the state which was forced to order half-day sessions to take care of overcrowded clasrooms.

He added that a "number of cities have obtained the quonset huts for such emergencies as Mansfield is facing," and that the huts are "very adaptable" for school buildings since they are of composite construction affording easy installation of heating and lighting facilities.

Moore said that problems of public school overcrowdings are expected to be brought up at the state meeting of all school superintendents to be held in Columbus on Sept. 20. Problems of this sort, Moore said, would be presented to the state education director, Dr. Clyde Hissong.

Moore added that 23 municipalities, in the state were notified of the compliance of quonset huts with state public school regulations recently. These municipalities, he said, all have existing building codes. Mansfield does not have a building code.

C. J. Brock of the Pioneer Steel Buildings company said that a quonset hut, size 40 by 140 feet, was sent to Akron Saturday for use at the Old Trail schoolhouse. He added that the company had "most any size hut in stock for immediate delivery."

According to the school building survey made by the Bureau of Educational Research of Ohio State university, enrollment has noticeably increased in the public schools the past five years and may increase as much as 42 per cent by 1949, after which it "will probably decline."

Lions Club Will Initiate Seven

Five new members will be initiated into the Mansfield Lions club Wednesday, Alvin Fankhauser, secretary, announced today. Scheduled to be initiated are Sherm Gage, Franklin Smeltzer, Ralph Schad, Kenny Cook and Bob Moorhead.

Fankhauser warned prospective members "not to wear your best clothes" and reminded regular members that "no visitors" will be permitted at the initiation meeting. The Lions will also launch an annual membership drive at the Wednesday meeting and complete plans for their annual family picnic to be held Sunday at Liberty park.

Shipping Clerk at Barnes Plant Has Been at Job Four Decades

Work Interrupted Only By Service In World War I.

By ALVIN PREYER

The double honor of being the employe with the longest service at the Barnes Manufacturing company as well as the oldest member of the firm's veterans' club, belongs to Emmett J. Crookton, who, with his wife, lives at 124 Flint street.

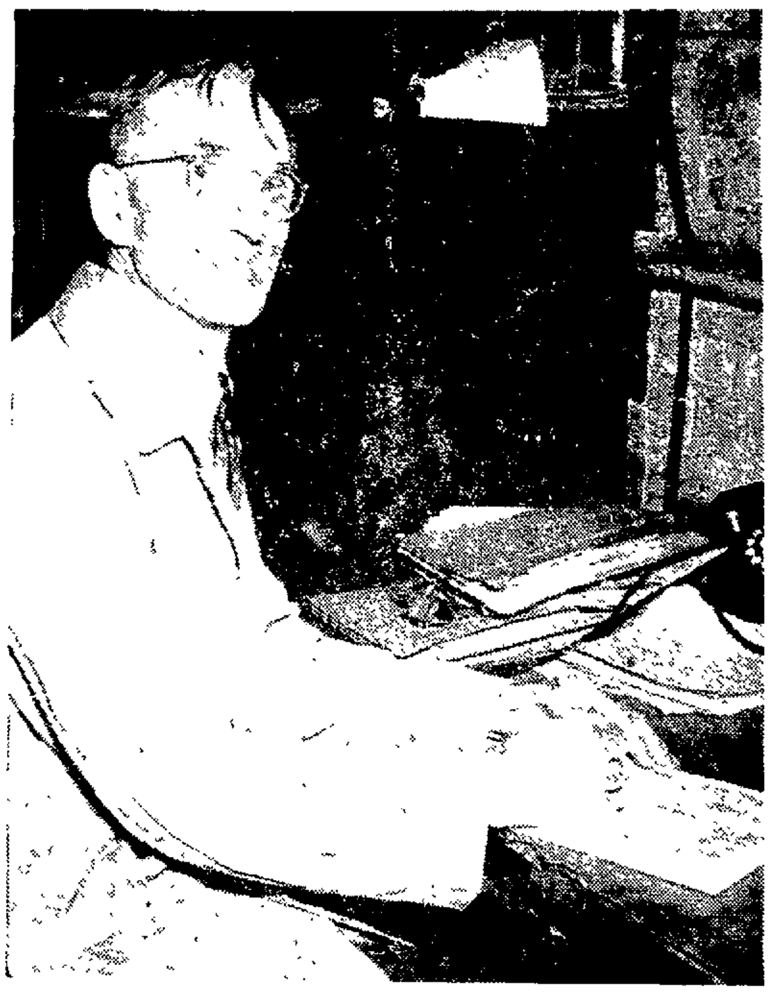
Born at Sherwood, O., in 1887, Crookton came to Mansfield in 1904. In May 1905, he decided Barnes' was the place to work, applied there one day and began next day the work that has been his employment for over 40 years.

"I've been in the shipping department, where I am now shipping clerk, ever since the first day. Crookton said. "My only absence was during a year of service overseas with the field artillery during the first World war. That was the most thrilling period of my life, and the biggest thrill came when the Armistice was signed."

RECALLS HIS BIGGEST THRILL

"My greatest thrill with the Barnes company," related Crookton, "was when I represented the employes at the awarding of an Army-Navy "E" to the firm in November, 1943."

Looking back over the years, Crookton pictured the changes that have come about from the time when the company employed about 100 men and made pumps by hand, to the present time when some 400 employes are turning out mechanical pumps with the most modern equipment.



E. J. Crookton . . . Barnes employe 41 years

"The improvement in labor conditions since I began to work here, such as the profit sharing plan for employes that our new management has begun, has impressed me," Crookton said.

"I've lots of hobbies, but one favorite—baseball," Crookton said. "But horseshoes, bowling and pinochle are good games, too."

Summing up his life experiences, Crookton said that "keeping busy as a means to continued good health" was his formula for successful living.

A member of the English Lutheran church for 35 years, Crookton also belongs to the McVey post of the American Legion, Venus lodge of the Masonic Order and the Order of Owls.

10 City Meat Markets Close

unless unforeseen meat supplies arrive.

Lunch Meat Only.

Lunch meat was all packers delivered to markets today. All markets said a "new low" had been reached on supplies of pork, beef and veal.

"This meat situation has got to come to a head soon," one dealer said. "We've had shortages for four years now and things are getting shorter. Personally, I hope that the fellows who are causing the shortage suffer right along with the rest of us."

* * *

U. S. Inquiry Demanded.

News dispatches to the News-Journal quoted packers and retailers throughout the nation as predicting that butcher shops will have almost no fresh meat by the end of the week.

The shortage prompted Rep. Adolph J. Sabath, D., Ill., to demand a government investigation.

Aiming his criticism at the meat packers and the New York stock exchange, he denounced "big business criminals who want to wreck the country for 30 lousy pieces of silver. I want the department of justice to ascertain where there is collusion and conspiracy."

He said there was no justification for a drop in the number of cattle shipped to the Chicago yards from 40,000 before the restoration of price controls on livestock to 300 last Friday.

Estimated receipts for today were 6,000 cattle and 1,000 hogs—a third of the normal Monday receipts for this time of year.

* * *

'Wait and See' Attitude.

In general, federal officials adopted a "wait and see" attitude as livestock shipments to major markets hit record new lows. They maintained silence on any government formula for curtailing the downward trend.

Price Administrator Paul Porter was expected to make some comment today on his trip to Chicago last Friday to confer with representatives of the meat industry. Porter has been tight-lipped since his return to Washington.

RELEASED, HE WRECKS AUTO

Police Nab Shelby Man Second Time on Driving Charges.

Police originally booked McGrath on a speeding charge about 2:50 a. m. Sunday morning. They said he was driving 65 miles an hour on West Fourth street. He was released on $25 bond and ordered to appear in court today.

Some 20 minutes later police said they received a call that a car had turned over on Linden road near Park avenue west.

Investigation showed that McGrath's car had license plates issued for a 1934 model car. The car was on its top when police arrived and they described it as a "total loss."

McGrath said that he "never got around" to transferring the license from a car he formerly owned.

Also in municipal court today, Vaughan Tennant, of Mt. Gilead, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of passing a school bus while it was discharging passengers. He pleaded guilty.

Albert Bradburn, of Cleveland, was fined $10 and costs on a speeding charge and Doyle Girdner, of Mansfield, R. D. 3, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with insufficient brakes.

someone picked up his grip, saying:

"Let me have it . . . I'm quite used to waiting on myself now."

He attributed recent outbreaks of violence and famine in his native country to wartime inflation.

"A hundred pre-war rupees are only equal to 35-40 rupees now," he declared. "Poor salaries at pre-war standards caused riots recently. The sufferers are the salaried people with fixed incomes and less buying power."

Suraj described India as a land of contrast in classes. It has a small rich class and a small middle class, but the majority of her people are in the lowest income groups and on the verge of starvation.

"India is in a state of change now, and it's for the good," he declared. "It is becoming more nationalistic and more modernized through the efforts of the Congress party."

At Ohio Northern, he hopes to round out a formal education designed to fit him for the possible role of one of India's future leaders, but he is not all seriousness.

"I play tennis and polo, and love to swim," he declared.

CHARLES P. ALLISON

MILLERSBURB — Charles P. Allison, 82, prominent farmer, of three miles west of Killbuck, died at his home at 1 a. m. today of a heart ailment.

He leaves his wife, Loretta Middaugh Allison; two sons, Carl N., and J. Pliney, both of Killbuck; three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The body will be removed from the Elliott funeral home here to the Wade Jones residence, where friends may call Tuesday. From there it will be taken to the home, where friends may call Wednesday afternoon and evening. Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Killbuck Church of Christ, of which Mr. Allison was a member. Rev. J. Hubert Smith will officiate. Burial will be in Killbuck cemetery.

JOHN VARNER

BUTLER—John Varner, 71, died Sunday night at Mansfield General hospital after a lingering illness.

He leaves his wife, Effie Jane; one sister, Mrs. Steve Martin of Sistersville, W. Va.; a brother, Elias, of McMechen, W. Va.; and several nieces and nephews. He was a member of the Evangelical church here.

The body will be removed from the Snyder funeral home tonight to the family residence where services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Rev. I. D. Archibald will officiate, assisted by Rev. E. A. Rothgeb. Burial will be in Four Corners cemetery.

MORGAN MILLER

MILLERSBURG—Morgan Miller, 77, of Fredericksburg, died in Pomerene hospital Sunday at 4 p. m. He entered the hospital a month ago because of a broken hip.

Mr. Miller, a former tinner and painter, at one time operated a general store in Fredericksburg. He never married.

The body was removed from the Elliott funeral home here to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William VanOsdal at Fredericksburg for services Tuesday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in West cemetery at Fredericksburg.

MRS. LUCY YOUNG

ASHLAND—Mrs. Lucy Hanna Young, 81, died at Samaritan hospital Sunday at 9:45 a. m.

Born in Ashland county, Mrs. Young had made her home on R. D. 5. She was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Enos Nell, of Ashland, R. D. 5; two brothers, Ed Smith of Lakewood; and Don Smith of Ashland, R. D. 2; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Hershey and Miss Gusta Smith, both of Ashland. Her husband, Michael, preceded her in death.

Services will be held at the daughter's residence on the Savannah road Wednesday at 3 p. m., with Rev. H. H. Lentz officiating. Burial will be in Ashland cemetery.

MRS. SYLVIA REDICK

SHILOH—Funeral services for Mrs. Sylvia Redick, 73, who died Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Foster Anderson of Weller township, will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Methodist church. Rev. E. R. Haines will officiate and burial will be in Shiloh cemetery.

Besides the sister at whose home she died, Mrs. Redick is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Oscar Foulk of Shelby; another sister, Mrs. Emery Fidler of Weller township; and two brothers, Charles Kissel of Weller township; and George Kissel of Franklin township; one granddaughter and one great-granddaughter.

BOTH TOO SPEEDY

CHILLICOTHE—(AP)—Ralph E. Brickey, 32, of Portsmouth, was arrested yesterday for speeding and when state patrolmen questioned him, he declared: "I'm on my way to pay a speeding fine for a friend." Brickey said he had received a telephone call from a friend who was in Mayor Harold E. Moore's court . . . Patrolmen said Brickey paid $10 for his friend and a like amount for himself.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER
MANSFIELD, OHIO, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1946

Of course it was a wonderful vacation, but home is so much more comfortable.

Latest of the Dionne children came singly—the fourteenth—thus proving to science that quintuplets are not likely to repeat.

George Washington's admonition to "avoid foreign entanglements" appears much more difficult to follow now than when he said it.

No 'Low-Priced' Automobiles Now

THE UPWARD price trend of new automobiles—even the "low priced" ones—is rather discouraging to persons who have become accustomed to "individual transportation" but whose income is not sufficient to take care of other increased living expenses and also provide for the initial cost and upkeep of a new car.

An observer of the trend remembers back in 1923, when the list price of a Model T Ford, f. o. b. Detroit, was as low as $295. Then came the Model A, with many "refinements," including a hand gear shift, priced at around $500.

But now, this observer notes, it is impossible to get delivery on any new automobile—other than the midget makes—for less than $1,000—with most of them $1,200 and up.

Much of this added cost is presumably made necessary by additional "refinements"—streamlining, trouble-making automatic gadgets, and the like. Then there are the "extras," without which some cars cannot be bought nowadays, but which add nothing to actual transportation facilities.

While present luxury prices are likely to carry through until the demands of prospective buyers in the higher income brackets have been satisfied, there will still be many persons who will be anxious to buy a plainer, simpler car, which may have less speed and fewer gadgets but which is priced within range of their pocketbooks.

Unless upward revision of incomes becomes so general that everybody can regard a dollar as having about a 30-cent value, there will be many people who will consider from $500 to $750 as about the top price they can afford to pay for a car.

More About Collection of Garbage

WHILE opinions differ as to the best way of meeting the cost of collecting garbage, the impression seems to be quite general that ALL garbage should be collected and properly disposed of, rather than being left on a voluntary basis.

To accomplish this under the present system it would be necessary to establish sufficiently high fees from paying customers to meet the cost of collection from a charity list of non-payers, service to whom would be continued despite inability or unwillingness to pay.

Placing garbage collection on the list of essential community services, with payment from tax funds, will probably impress many as a fairer method of solving this problem, it being remembered that Mansfield tax rates are considerably lower than many comparable cities.

As to collection of ashes—that was an added service to garbage department patrons, put into effect a number of years ago when it became possible to do this without cramping the department's operating funds and when wages and maintenance costs were considerably lower.

A separate, per container, charge for ash collection would appear quite proper—although, as pointed out, the idea of requiring ash containers to be placed outside of homes, doesn't seem practicable.

That Interview With a Rat

THAT IMAGINATIVE yarn by John Mine in Saturday's News-Journal—the one that purported to express the views of a talkative rat on the present local extermination campaign—raises a fine point in the matter of extent to which some animals can properly proceed with the destruction of other animals which Nature has placed on earth.

The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals conducts an active campaign in this behalf year after year, yet some animals are considered worthy of protection while others are deemed so obnoxious as to justify widespread extermination.

From the rat's standpoint, in all probability, it is as entitled to "life, liberty and the pursuit of food," as any other animal—and it must be admitted that any rat would be less dangerous than some of the animals that appear in less repellent forms—as, for instance, the fiendish William Heirens, 17-year-old Chicago youth who is to be imprisoned for the remainder of his life after confessing three brutal murders and scores of burglaries. Yet there are some who think that he should not be "exterminated."

Possibly if the rats had better upbringing they could also be developed into valuable members of the animal kingdom, instead of being hated because of their destructiveness. Some other animals also do quite an effective job of destroying.

Discomforts of Sea Travel

CRITICISM of the manner in which former troop ships are now being run as passenger vessels is getting more frequent and more severe. At first the stories told of overcrowding and limited water supplies. Recently passengers crossing the Pacific to Australia reported that the ship in which they traveled was extremely dirty. War Shipping Administration officials are investigating the complaints.

Civilians to whom ocean transportation is available for the first time since the war do not expect luxury conditions. They are grateful for the ride, and willing to put up with some discomforts. However, they have a right to expect cleanliness and decent accommodations. And they do not feel that they should have to pay first-class rates for bunk space.

America's Debt To Immigrants

DOES your school tell children how much the United States owes in the way of civilization to the countries of Europe? Leland Stowe, the journalist, asks that question in his new book, "While Time Remains." He does not remember ever having heard this when he went to school, and he has not been able to find any schools which do impress it.

Yet the United States would be far poorer if it had never admitted European immigrants. If this truth were taught, it might make for better relations with other countries.

Are Peace Delegates Powerless To Stop Impending Catastrophe?

(Editor's Note — Today Drew Pearson, back in Washington, writes his column in the form of a message to the diplomats of the Paris Peace Conference, which he recently attended.

By DREW PEARSON

Washington, D. C.

TO THE DELEGATES OF THE PEACE CONFERENCE:

For many days, gentlemen, I watched your deliberations in Paris. For many weeks I have studied all the reports on your progress. I am not alone. Millions of others also have watched you—mothers who pray their sons may live in a warless world, wives whose husbands' future depends on you. All are watching you.

We have watched you win a point of procedure and hail it as if you had won a battle. We have heard your debate claims and counter-claims, restitution and national honor. We did not send you to Paris to defend your honor; we defended it ourselves in battle.

We sent you to Paris to secure peace. Yet you have sat in the red plush seats of the Palace of Luxembourg, prim, proper, helpless, watching a new world catastrophe descend upon you, doing little to head it off. This is supposed to be a time of reconstruction, of building up. Yet, at the Palace of Luxembourg, there is no lilt in any man's voice, no lift in any statesman's arm.

Once again disaster is sweeping upon us and you, sedate and solemn, sit oblivious to that fact.

Look around you, gentlemen. The countryside is still bleeding; humanity is bleeding. Have you noticed how few the pregnant women on the streets of Paris? Have you noticed the old men tilling the fields of France? The young generation has vanished. France cannot stand another war. Civilization cannot stand another war. It will be the end.

Look up, gentlemen, at the gold-encrusted, carved woodwork of the Palace of Luxembourg, remnants of the lush days of the de Medicis. Look up and close your eyes. Imagine the carved woodwork to be white crosses . . .

At Guadalcanal and Stalingrad, at Tobruk and Salerno, at Minsk and Dunkerque, at the Rapido and on Iwo Jima. Remember that thousands of eyes are watching you — staring out from under those white crosses. They cannot speak, but they will never forgive. Will you be able to sleep at night, gentlemen, with those eyes haunting you?

Our Allies Forget.

The war is over one short year, yet some of you have set yourselves apart from us. Worse, you are setting us apart from each other. We who were allies in war are becoming distrustful strangers in peace.

Why is it that you have such short memories? Do you not recall how one country rushed airplanes, food, jeeps, tanks, all the materials of war to Murmansk and the Gulf of Persia to help an ally with its back to the wall at Stalingrad?

Have you forgotten how the American people gladly forewent bread to send wheat to a nation which now shoots its airplanes like iron ducks in a shooting gallery?

Mr. Byrnes told you, as the conference opened, that the American people did not intend to draw back into the shell of their traditional isolation. He might also say that even though one country's policy is a diplomatic war of nerves to discourage America's part in keeping the peace, she will not be discouraged. The American people learned once the tragic result of yielding to Hitlerian bulldozing. They do not intend to make that mistake again.

Peace Rests On People.

Every war is followed by proposals for international peace. During the wars of religion in the 12th century, Pierre Dupois said, "Let us have a union of European princes, with a council, a court, and collective action to enforce peace." In 1623, Emeric Cruce sought freedom of trade, a world court and a world union. The "Grand Design" of Henry IV was as hopeful as your United Nations. William Penn, Abbe Saint-Pierre, Jean Jacques Rousseau, Jeremy Bentham, Immanuel Kant—all proposed plans for world peace.

These things have been tried and tried again. They have never been enough. Even without the paralyzing "veto" they have failed. For peace is not to be found in treaties alone. Peace must rest on a new spirit of cooperation, a new spirit of friendship, a new determination to build for peace. That determination is present in the hearts of men, but not always among their governments—especially certain governments which seem to think they will slip from power unless their people are stirred up against a bogus foreign enemy.

Peace, I repeat, does not come from a union among nations. It comes from an understanding among peoples. And there can be no understanding when people are separated one from the other.

Trials for Diplomats.

The people of the world do not want war. They want to go back to work. They want to rebuild, readjust, reemploy. This is just as true of the people of devastated Russia as it is of the people of war-weary America. All want peace. And they have sent you to Paris to carry out their wishes.

Some of you, however, supposed to be skilled in diplomacy, seem rooted to the precepts of the German philosopher Hegel. "Men learn nothing from history," he said, "except that men learn nothing from history."

We stand at the culmination of two world wars; yet we are no nearer avoiding war. No guarantee will be born of this conference that our sons will not have to fight again. You seem more concerned with making your point, gentlemen, than with making our peace. A loaded gun is at your head, but you dribbled away weeks talking of procedure.

Senator Connally was not speaking for Texas; he was not speaking for the United States; he was speaking for everyone when he said: "This is a peace conference, not a struggle to see which country can get the greatest benefit for one group. We are here as ambassadors of the People of the World to solve the problems of the world."

The conference of Versailles was saddening. The conference of Paris is tragedy. For the nations of the world are now drawing partners for a war which will make past wars resemble a 4th of July firecracker. It will be a war which will end civilization.

In Nuernburg, not far from Paris, three judges are sitting to fix the guilt of those who began World War II. I propose gentlemen, that we begin conducting a trial of the diplomats, who by their actions at Paris make it clear that they are thwarting the peace of the world. They are just as guilty as the men of Nuernburg, and mankind shall revile them and hold them in contempt the rest of their lives.

Unless we fix their guilt now, the Palace of Luxembourg will bear a stone tablet reading: "This Marks the Spot Where World War III Began."

Gentlemen of the Paris peace conference, it is up to you!

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

Sir Richard Stayner, with part of Admiral Blake's fleet, attacked the Spanish treasure fleet off Cadiz on September 9, 1656. As a result of this maneuver, the Spanish lost nearly two million pounds.

Dave Boone Says:

I SEE where the natives of Bikini have sent Harry Truman a gift of a straw shopping bag. Maybe there was a hint behind it that it would be a great thing if Harry confined his shopping operations to a search for smaller eggs and coconuts.

* * *

It seems to me this puts the Bikini folks away out on top in any contest to identify the most highly civilized, best meaning and thoroughly kindly people. If we dropped anywhere else on earth the things we have been dropping around Bikini can you imagine what we would get back? It wouldn't be shopping bags.

* * *

The more you think of it the more you like Bikini. We drop nothing but a few speeches, a couple of notes and a few mild opinions on some of the highly civilized nations and they throw everything but the kitchen sink at us.

That shopping bag is the first really friendly gesture Uncle Sam's had from anybody since he got dragged into the peace.

Get This Straight! Autos Are Scarce.

DETROIT, Mich. — Today's short, sad story: We rattled into Detroit the other day, our 1938 jallopy squeaking, steaming and threatening to come apart at the seams. It was touch and go whether we'd make it.

But our hearts were light as we eased past the city limits. After all, this was DETROIT! This was the mecca of the automotive world. This was the place to get new cars. Happily, the missus and I chortled in gay argument over whether we'd get a coach or a convertible.

We're going to leave Detroit in a few days now (as soon as the mechanics get through), driving our (gulp!) 1938 jallopy—still squeaking, steaming and threatening to come apart at the seams.

It will be touch and go whether we make it out of town.

All of which means it's the last time I'm going to listen to the lads along the way.

"Sure," they said in some 30 states during the past six months. "Sure, you can get a new car in Detroit. They can't kid us. Why I'll bet everybody in Detroit drives a new car—that is, everybody who wants one. And listen, you can't tell me that those guys who work for the automobile factories don't get new cars when they want them! Hah! All you gotta do is go to Detroit."

Boys and girls, it just ain't so . . .

To begin with, it is not exactly divulging a trade secret to state that the flivver factories in this sector still are having various and sundry difficulties which hamper the production of cars no little.

Strikes, both in main plants and in feeder factories, have taken a terrific toll of the potential assembly line output. Although most such strikes have ended, their effect still is felt.

Secondly, there remains a crippling shortage in such essentials as pig iron, scrap, low-carbon sheet steel for bodies, bearings, clutches and the like. Until such shortages are overcome, the automobile output will continue to be a trickle instead of a flood.

But those factors scarcely constitute news. What is news to a lot of lads along the road who have been filling this correspondent full of fairy-tales is that everybody in Detroit does not drive a new car.

As a matter of fact, it is just as hard, if not harder, to get a 1946 model if you live here as it is if you live in Keokuk. And if you work for an auto company, brother you'd better be able to prove you've had your name on the list for six months if you show up in a new model!

Perhaps the situation at the Ford factory is typical.

"We allot cars strictly on a basis of the 1940-41 sales and deliveries," said Walker Williams, national sales manager for Ford.

"It's the only fair method we know—and, quite frankly, the only good business method. We couldn't keep the good will of the dealers and the customers across the country otherwise."

Williams spread out the charts on his desk, pointing to the Detroit area's percentage—one of the highest in the nation.

"That's what most people overlook," he said. "Detroit has always been a new car town. People are naturally auto conscious here. The historical percentage for this area is higher than most places as a result—but we stick strictly to it."

Dealers through this Wayne county area bore out Williams' words. As far back as nine months ago, there were orders for more than 30,000 Fords in the Detroit zone. (How many orders there are now is a matter of astronomical speculation.)

Yet in all that time, less than 11,000 have been delivered. One out of three of those went to veterans, seven per cent to doctors and nurses, ten per cent to various governmental agencies, 19 per cent to business institutions, 17 per cent to essential workers and 10 per cent to the general public.

That's the general order of priority everywhere, Williams said.

LaGuardia Was Hoodwinked By False Front.

THERE are many legends in Russia about Prince Grigory Aleksandrovich Potemkin, most durable minister of Catherine the Great. One is that, after a devastating war, the empress wished to see the true state of the countryside. So, when the empress traveled down a great river, Potemkin managed to display a colorful state of well-being by erecting on the shore theatrical backdrops portraying prosperous villages, with actors dancing about to impersonate happy inhabitants. It is said that Catherine was much impressed by the wealth and gaiety of her subjects.

Something like this show seems to have been staged for the emperor of UNRRA, Fiorello H. LaGuardia, on his recent visit to Italy.

UNRRA has bestowed upon the homeland of Fiorello's fathers not much less than a billion dollars' worth of goods. It is not unknown here and there that black marketeers have flourished, despite these foreign benefactions. But it now appears that the black marketeers of Italy, responsive to the spirit of dramatic gaiety, participated in a bit of drollery for the eyes of La Guardia. A Swiss newspaper, the Neue Zuriche Zeitung, recently said:

"Before the visit of La Guardia, a quite unusual, even unique 'gentleman's agreement' was formed. The black marketeers and profiteers, well organized among themselves as they were, obliged themselves by their word of 'honor' to have their commodities completely disappear during the presence of La Guardia in Rome. Indeed, during that time, it was impossible to buy in the Italian capital anything made out of American flour, any English or American cigarets, nor any chocolates, candy, or anything else coming from Allied countries. By this 'tender attention' they indeed spared La Guardia the disagreeable prospect of seeing personally that the commodities delivered by the Allies to alleviate distress were traded on the streets at exorbitant prices by black marketeers."

La Guardia may have undergone a somewhat similar illusion in the homeland of the great Potemkin. He is just publishing some articles reflecting his impressions on going through Russia.

Nothing in his articles points to the exceedingly low standard of living in Russian towns and villages, for he had seen only happy and hearty children and an astonishingly clean subway in Moscow.

He reports little of the absolute compulsion of political and social opinions. His description has only praise of everything he saw.

However, Mr. La Guardia may, to a degree, be excused for this. In Rome he could not see what the black marketeers did, but since he understands the language, he perhaps should have heard echoes of their work.

In Russia, the new Potemkin had an easier job. La Guardia could not hear what went on around him, and what he saw, he saw through the eyes of those who wanted him to see exactly what Potemkin wanted his empress to see.

About "Getting Along With Folks."

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I BELIEVE IN getting on with folks. In the rugged frontier school of the west where I was bred and born, kindness and consideration were a prime requisite of self preservation. Onery, inconsiderate people who refused to get along with their neighbors and went around making public nuisances of themselves soon found themselves picking bullets out of their back hair. I mean this literally.

Civilization, such as it is, is founded on consideration. Politeness, tact and courtesy are not mere surface gestures. They are the fundamental support of our social life.

However, consideration can never be learned merely by reading Emily Post. It goes much deeper than that. If you really want to get along with folks—and you'd better do so if you wish to keep your health—you must learn a few basic truths.

First of all, you must realize that you are no better than and very little different from the Other Guy. Are you sensitive? So is he. So is everyone. Are you self conscious? So if your neighbor. Do you feel that you are misunderstood? Then you simply share that conviction with the rest of the world.

In short, we are all human under the skin despite our diversified fronts. You have no monopoly on any reaction which is not common to the whole human race. You may have acquired a little surface culture which the other fellow has missed but basically we're all on a par.

Why should we get along with other people? That is the first and most important reason—because other people are simply a projection of our own selves. If we wish to have kindness shown to ourselves, if we wish consideration for our own sensitiveness, we'd better apply the same courtesy to Our Neighbor. Or else.

And the second reason for getting on with folks involves that "or else." For if you don't get along with other folks you're going to lose out on the greatest adventure in life. Man's crowning discovery is man. Other people should not only interest us, amuse and befiend us, but they actually nourish us. We literally live on other human beings.

The self centered sourpuss who retreats within himself withers very quickly. He is like a plant deprived of soil. He may still utter pompous platitudes but there is no good life within him.

If you want to keep yourself fresh and vital, if you wish to remain resilient despite the pressure and tension of modern life, you had better cultivate the basic art of Getting Along With Folks. It is, I assure you, more important than all the vitamins and hormones put together. It is the first essential to an abundant life.

Will you encounter disappointments ,trickery and betrayal if you like and trust other people? Of course you will. But you'll encounter them anyway. So you might as well have a little fun as you go, by living and practicing that oldest and wisest of all laws—the Golden Rule.

Farmer's Diary: "The Herb Garden."

DRIVING by a farm, I saw a little boy and his grandmother in a garden. A very old garden it was, for the paths were deep between the beds, and the weathered palings at the far end were paralleled by a bed of oldtime teas and herbs. Here the two had stopped and he held a bunch of leafy stuff while she slipped an elastic band around it. Somehow, at the glimpse, my heart beat faster. I even fancied that I could smell the fragrance of the bundle that he held.

Years ago I was a lad like that, who stood beside my gray-haired old maid aunt—my father's twin. She was a small, plump energetic person who wore a clean dark wellworn garment, neatly patched across the left sleeve where she had carried so many armfuls of firewood. The bed of teas in my grandparents' garden lay close to a gushing limestone spring and at intervals a youngster would be diverted by sight of a speckled trout or an eel moving upstream to the wide open source.

I stopped, at her bidding, in the path beside the teas, while she stepped cautiously in and plucked a dozen or more sprigs from each clump of fragrant greenery, reaching them to me with her short arms, and telling me in heavy Dutch accent of their virtues.

"This camomile is good for colds and fevers in the winter. Bitter"—and she made a puckered face—"but it makes all warm inside. It cures sore throat . . .

"This tea is better than senna leaves when younguns get bound up." she handed me some haylike branching stalks of fennel. I knew what she meant. I hated senna tea . . . "it is good too to put in the candy at Christmas. Keeps children well and makes an appetite.

"Here are the mints . . . hoarhound, spearmint and lemon mint. See how they grow better so, beside the water. You'll get some of these in the candy at Thanksgiving and Christmas."

Deliberately, she approached the sage and cut the tender top leafy branches. "This cures a cough—is good for consumptives, and makes good gargle for sore throat," she said.

"Now we must pot my parsley for the kitchen window, in the winter, and gather the seeds of the poppies and the bird's weed."

After she had cut all these little bundles and I had laid them carefully aside, she took a short string of homespun woolen cord and tied each little sheaf as I held it, stem end toward her.

Only once do I remember being permitted to enter the attic of that old log house. There, one late fall, I saw about ten or a dozen sheaves of well dried teas hanging from the rafters. I remember yet how the aroma permeated everything and how the clean shingles of the newly patched roof showed just above.

Director of Service-Safety, City of Mansfield, Mansfield, Ohio, and endorsed "Proposal for Clear Fork Dam" will be received by the Director of Service-Safety of Mansfield, Richland County, Ohio until 12:00 noon, E. S. T., September 30, 1946 and then and there publicly opened and read.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Director, or at the office of the Engineers, The Jennings-Lawrence Company, Suite 538 Rowlands Building, Columbus, Ohio, and the same are referred to for details. Prospective bidders may obtain copies of the plans and specifications from the Director or Engineers upon payment to them of $10.00, $10.00 of which will be refunded if the plans are returned, in good condition, on or before the day of the letting.

All bids must be made on forms furnished by the Director of Engineers and all conditions herein contained and all banks must be properly filled in, except that prices shall not be bid for items not appearing in the Engineer's estimate. No additional prices or qualifying clauses shall be written in.

Prices for labor and material shall be bid separately.

No bid will be allowed to be withdrawn, for any reason, after it has been deposited with the Director.

The work must be begun within fifteen (15) calendar days after the signing of the Contract by the City officials and must be completed within two hundred seventy (270) calendar days after the signing of the Contract by the City.

A bond or a certified check on a solvent bank located in Ohio, for an amount not less than 5% of the total amount of the bid must accompany this proposal, subject to the conditions, stated in the proposal as security for the execution of the contract within ten (10) days after the award is made.

A bond for the fulfillment of the contract will be required in the amount of 100% of the contract price and in the form required by law.

Sureties on all bonds must be surety companies satisfactory to the City.

The right to reject any or all bids is reserved. Any award made will be made to the lowest and best bidder. Informalities may be waived at the option of the City.

Each bid must contain the full name and address of each person or company interested in the same. When there is reason to believe that there is collusion or combination among the bidders, the bids of those concerned therein shall be rejected.

W. W. ENLOW,
Service-Safety Director.

Barclay On Bridge

HOLDING THE A-Q and another card or the A-J and another in the long suit led against a No Trump game, the average partner will come in right away with his ace and fire back the next honor. That enables the declarer, if he holds the twice-guarded king, to wait for the third round and thus successfully stop the suit unless the opening leader has a re-entry. In case the third-hand player has an honor which looks like a winner, he can give the declarer an awful problem by playing his middle card on the first trick.

Let's see what happened at three tables of a duplicate game at which South reached 3-No Trumps and West opened the spade 4.

At the first table, East played his A on the first trick and followed with the Q, on which South played low. The K then took the third spade. Now South opened the club suit, which he had to bring in to make his contract. He finessed the Q, which East won with the K. Having no more spades, he returned the diamond 3, whereupon South took the rest of the tricks to make game, plus an extra.

At the second table, East played the Q on the spade lead South, fearing that West might have a suit headed by the A-J, was afraid to let East win, as a spade return would then result in a run of the suit. After winning with the K, he finessed clubs to the K. East then laid down his spade A, and his lead of the 6 enabled West to run the rest of the suit, setting South.

The third declarer took a hazardous chance—and knew it was just that—by playing low when East used the Q on the opening spade trick. The A won the next, but when South got the third spade, his contract was safe.

The big point here is that the play of the Q on the first trick puts South in a mean predicament and constitutes the best chance to beat the contract.

PILES
ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennet Cerf

The barkeep of a downtown tavern kept a pet parrot. One evening a celebrant spotted it, climbed atop a stool and tried to catch hold of it. "Scram, landlubber," shrieked the outraged pol. "What's the big idea?"

The tipsy patron looked surprised, doffed his hat and mumbled, "Golly, I'm sorry, mister! I though you was a boid!"

* * *

Harold Hart has gathered a bouquet of poison-ivy sprigs hurled at women by some nasty old cynics who probably never had a girl of their own with great big beautiful blue eyes. Samuel Butler remarked "Brigands demand your money or your life. Women require both." H. L. Mencken declared, "Thirty is a nice age for a woman especially if she happens to be forty."

That meanie Herb Swope pointed out that a woman who is always up in the air and harping on something is not necessarily an angel. "Women are like socks, and should be changed frequently," is attributed to John Lewis French. And could it really have been John Barrymore who counselled, "The way to fight a woman is with your hat. Grab it and run"?

Tomorrow's Problem.

How would you try to make 4-Hearts on this deal, after ruffing the third spade, if you had a pair of rather careless defenders against you?

See Romance For Princess

LONDON (AP)—Rumors of a romance between Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip of Greece spread across the realm today despite official denials, and Britons began sizing up the handsome young royal naval officer as a potential consort for Britain's next queen.

Court circles said the prince was one of Elizabeth's "circle of friends," and now a guest of the royal family at Balmoral castle in Scotland. But they denied that he and the 20-year-old heiress presumptive were engaged to marry.

A flood of rumors was started by the London Star's report of an impending announcement of an engagement. But Sir Alan Lascelles, private secretary to the king, issued a statement declaring:

"Princess Elizabeth is not engaged to be married. The report published is incorrect."

The Star, saying the engagement would be announced to the nation at a "time considered suitable by the king and his advisers," added that "until then Buckingham palace will continue officially to 'know nothing' of the romance."

Prince Philip, a cousin of Greek King George II, is 25 and a British royal navy lieutenant.

LUCILLE CALVER WEDS MELVIN R. WILSON

First English Lutheran Church Scene of Ceremony Yesterday; Couple to Return to College.

REV. CARVETH PEARN MITCHELL read the wedding service yesterday afternoon uniting Miss Helen Lucille Calver and Melvin Raymond Wilson. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Calver, 246 Davis road, became the bride of the son of Melvin J. Wilson, of Fairport, and the late Mrs. Wilson, in a 3:30 p. m. service in the First English Lutheran church.

Mrs. Clayson Bell, organist, played the wedding music with Miss Norma Toole of Cleveland, sorority sister of the bride, as vocalist.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk jersey and net with a basque bodice, cap sleeves and net skirt. With it she wore long white gloves and silk illusion fingertip veil held in place by a beaded tiara. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and white roses.

As matron of honor, Mrs. Daryl Heiser, sister of the bride, was attired in pink net and taffeta with a hat of blue ostrich feathers and blue veiling. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli, delphinium and talisman roses.

Miss Dorothy Smith of Massillon, college roommate of the bride, wore aqua silk jersey and a hat of white ostrich feathers and aqua veiling. Her bouquet was of yellow gladioli and talisman roses.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Calver chose a black silk crepe dress with aqua accessories. Mrs. Louis Elliott of Springfield, O., sister of the bridegroom, wore black crepe with pink accessories. Both wore corsages of gardenias.

Edward L. Finnigan of Berea served as best man, with Russell F. Wilson of Painesville, brother of the bridegroom, and Louis G. Elliott of Springfield, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, as ushers.

The newlyweds received approximately 100 guests in the church parlors following the ceremony. The bridal table was decorated with pink and white gladioli and a triple tiered wedding cake. Presiding were the Misses Susie Lake and Ruth LeMunyon, this city, and Miss Ellen Grissinger of New London.

When leaving for her wedding trip through the middle west, the new Mrs. Wilson chose a beige gabardine suit with brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

After Sept. 20 the couple will reside on Beech street, Berea, while both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson finish their senior year at Baldwin-Wallace college.

The bride is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and a member of Alpha Gamma Delta national sorority. At the time of her marriage she was employed by Dr. Ernst B. Mainzer and Dr. Lisabeth S. Mainzer as lab technician.

Mr. Wilson, a veteran of three years in the U. S. Navy, was discharged with the rank of ensign.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Cleveland, Berea, Painesville, Springfield, Lima, Massillon, Columbus, and New London.

HOW DO YOU FEEL ABOUT IT?

"It's the new 'soapless suds' cleaner—'specially best for washing lingerie!"
says MRS. M. WOLF of Kingston, N. Y.
"New Ethyl Cleaner keeps my dainty undies new-looking longer. No harmful wringing needed. Leaves no soapy deposit to stiffen fine fabric. And those grand, gentle suds work miracles with precious nylons, too!"

"Lingerie? I vote Ethyl Cleaner best for a greasy stove!"
says MRS. MARY R. CRAIG of Worcester, Mass.
"You ought to see how new Ethyl Cleaner makes my kitchen stove sparkle. Soot and grease disappear right before your eyes! Those quick-acting 'soapless suds' seem to simply float the dirt away. It doesn't scratch the enamel, either. And it's swell for washing greasy pots and pans!"

"But look here! I claim it's best for washing cars!"
says MR. MILTON MENGEL of Toledo, Ohio
"Ethyl Cleaner is the best all-over car wash I've ever tried. It removes dirt and grime from paint, glass, chrome and upholstery like magic. It's quick. It's easy. Even road film just floats away!"

Everyone agrees new Ethyl Cleaner is better, faster, milder than soap for so many things!

And after you've tried new Ethyl Cleaner, you'll agree, too It simply floats the dirt away from dishes, glassware, woolens, windows . . . so many things! And it's kinder to the hands than famous beauty soaps. Try it today. A few drops of Ethyl Cleaner—plus water—do the trick!
